

December 1, 1937.

Mr. Robin McGeorge, Manager,
Hotel Kansas Citian,
Kansas City, Missouri.

Dear Robin:

Doubtless Mr. George Veenker, secretary of the Big Six Conference, has asked you for accommodations and available space for the meeting of the Big Six Directors' meeting and Basketball Coaches on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Our basketball rules interpretation open meeting is scheduled for 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The attendance at such meeting generally runs from 175 to 250. Would it be possible to use the same auditorium from 12 to 1:30 o'clock to show a basketball movie-talkie at this time? Six nationally known coaches have demonstrated their fundamentals, using the Phillips "66" team as the medium.

We have written the coaches of Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Missouri and Iowa inviting them for the open meeting and also for the showing of this picture.

I thought perhaps I had better personally take this matter up with you so there would be no confusion at the last moment. I will appreciate your usual splendid cooperation. As chairman of the National Basketball Rules Committee of the 5th District, I will be in charge of the noon meeting and the afternoon meeting.

With deep appreciation, I am

Sincerely yours,

Chairman, Fifth District,
National Basketball Rules Committee.
