Dear Doctor:

The basket ball referred to in your letter of yesterday has not come in, but we will not wait for it - we will send you a new ball in replacement today with no questions asked.

There were a very few of the Last-Bilt Balls which got through on which some bad cement was used, and as usually happens in such cases, no one knew that the cement was faulty until after the balls had been put in use.

This difficulty has been corrected at the factory and we are certain there will be no trouble on any future deliveries. Should you have any more trouble along this line you will always find our ears sticking up and wide open - just like the ears on the basket ball which you are sending back!

Very cordially yours,

Les R. Freeburg
