Mr. William Lindquist,

Kansas City 2, Kansas.

Dear Bill:

I acknowledge with thanks your check for $25.00; also your very interesting letter. No, Bill, I had not worried in the slightest about your meeting your obligation. I knew that you would. I know that a young man has to have a few clothes and a little entertainment, and so forth, but these college boys have an unusual reputation for paying their debts.

George Spears, the Greek immigrant who is a fine American citizen, the owner of the DeLuxe Cafe, showed us a check the other day that he had received from a boy who had run quite a bill with him in 1924. George still had the bills and said, "Don't worry, the boy will pay me when he gets it," and in came the payment. Merchants up and down the street have great faith in the boys' desire and willingness to pay when they can. Your sister paid $10.00 on your indebtedness. This makes $35 paid on the obligation.

I am glad to know that you are still working at Chrysler Motor Co., and that they recognized your worth to raise you a dime an hour. I am hoping that they again will do likewise in the not too distant future.

I am glad that you like your new home. It must be a lot of fun to get into a home after you have lived in an apartment. One of our little granddaughters several years ago in ransacking through our house, said to Mrs. Allen, "Mimi, I like this house. It is full of so many surprises." She meant, of course, in going from one room to another there were so many things that she had not seen before. So I imagine you are liking all of your surprises. The fact that you have been doing the painting also adds to the appreciation of your home. When a fellow does something to make life more pleasant he appreciates his home a lot more.

Please give your dad and mom and your sister my kindest regards. I felt as though when the Lindquists were not there we were not going to have a game. I enjoyed them very much.

I'll bet when Dean Corder and Bill Lindquist put their heads together there was something popping at 121 North 13th Street and the environs of Greater Kansas City.

You shouldn't let a nine-hole golf game get you down, Bill. Maybe it was your score and not the fatigue of the course.

Mrs. Allen is in Kansas City shopping today, but I certainly will pass the good word along when she returns.

With all good wishes to you, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

Dear Dan

You could be thinking that I had forgotten you but you can depend on yours truly paying my debts.

Enclosed find check for $25.00 to pay on balance. I hope to clear the amount sometime within the next month.

Am still working at the Chrysler Motors and received a dime an hour raise last week so I consider myself pretty lucky.

As the stationary states, we have moved to a seven room cottage. The environment is much better.

Mother & Dad like the apartment better but I like a home the better. Have been painting the insides all last week and it has about got me down. Everything is finished now and am now enjoying the bedlam of a new home.

"Dean" Carden dropped in to spend a week end about a month ago and had a bang-up time. Quite a boy.

Well Dad, I had better close for now as it getting late. Returned from a 9-hole golf game after work and I might say I am legged out. Give my best wishes to Mrs. Allen and in closing I remain,

Sincerely,
Dill

Dear Lucile,

Dr. Allen received your letter of August 11, because he had to leave for Boone, Iowa last Monday to attend the Iowa Coaching School he asked me to find ~~that~~ the information you wanted and send it on to you.

I saw Miss Miller, secretary to the Women's Adviser, yesterday afternoon. She said to have you fill out a personal letter of application and send it to her as soon as possible.

Corbin Hall is almost filled but there maybe a chance that someone may cancel their reservation. There are two other dormitories, Jolliffe Hall and Foster Hall, which are very nice places to stay. There is such a demand for rooms in dormitories that they may open a new house.

As for the information concerning your assisting in the department Dr. Allen will have to take care of that matter.

I am a senior in the department and will be looking forward to meeting you this fall. I know you will like the teachers and the majors in the department.

I am enclosing the material that you will need to include in your letter of application.

Sincerely,

August 11, 1944
Lee's Summit, Mo.

Dear Dr. Allen:

Since I was in Lawrence last month talking to you about entering the University, I have been wondering about the living quarters for students. I would like very much to stay at Corbin Hall and not in a private home if it is at all possible. I am working in Kansas City at this time and it would be difficult for me to come to Lawrence except in the evening or on Sunday. For that reason I will greatly appreciate anything you can tell me about reserving rooms at Corbin Hall. In talking to Mary Noel Grant this week I found that it might be possible to get a reservation by letter.

I would also like to have any information concerning the opportunities for a new student to assist in any way in the physical education department. As you know I assisted in physical education at Missouri Valley and enjoyed it very much. I will appreciate any information on this subject.

Thank you very much for your assistance in the past.

Very sincerely,
Ludy Land

In reply to your inquiry of July 18th, I regret that we do not have a handbook on intramurals available. We are in a transition stage - doing Army, Navy and civilian physical conditioning work, and of course we have intramural sports, but they are not the usual type at the present time.

Dear Sir:

We are revamping our intramural program in the University of Arkansas and would like to get some information about the work being done in other places. I realize that intramural departments have suffered considerably in the last two or three years but you have undoubtedly kept your doors open. We are particularly interested in your handbook and would like to have a copy of that if nothing else. Copies of any other materials such as team and individual record systems and individual and team sports scoring sheets will also be appreciated.

I am enclosing herewith our little bulletin on the courses for Physical Education majors, and am asking the Registrar's Office to mail you a copy of the University catalog. I am also sending your transcripts to Dr. Laurence Woodruff, the registrar.

The six weeks term in the fall begins September 13. This is the time most new students will be coming to school, and they will find it easier to go right into the winter term, which begins October 31.

Mighty happy to have had a visit with you and your mother and dad. Feel perfectly free to write about anything you would like to know from time to time.

Dear Dr. Allen:-

Your letter was, indeed, a delightful surprise and I enjoyed your "Breath of Sunshine" to our men over there. A letter such as this must be a great source of enjoyment to all your boys.

I have wanted to write sooner but the past few weeks have been unusually busy ones. So many conferences besides the two daily classes that it was impossible to find time for letters.

All superintendents and Recreation leaders with whom I've worked certainly have a very high regard for you and your work. Many of them are using your basketball invention and like it. I wish I could have found one like it a few years ago for

Dear Carl:

Just after you phoned me yesterday afternoon regarding bringing Lucille and I trust Mrs. Land with you, with the intention of discussing Lucille's enrollment in the University, I received a telephone call from Professor Coombs announcing a Phi Delta Kappa educational banquet at 7 p.m. on Monday, the 24th of July.

He is asking that I be present, and I am wondering if it would suit you just as well to come Tuesday evening at the same time, - say between 7:30 and 8 o'clock. We live at 801 Louisiana Street, and we will be mighty happy to see you. However, if you cannot come on Tuesday, you write me and we will pass up the banquet.

It will always be a pleasure for me to serve you in any way because you served your country in such a wonderful fashion in World War I. It will be good to see you and yours.

Dean Paul B. Lawson,
College of Liberal Arts and Sciences,

Dear Dean Lawson:

Thank you for your footnote which you wrote on Dolph Simons' letter addressed to Adolph at the University of Kentucky. I am returning the letter to you.

I did not know that Adolph went down to see Dolph Simons, but I did enjoy the visit with Adolph here in the office. There is a bit of information that he gave me which might clarify the angle of McDonald and Hill being approached by a representative of the University of Kentucky. When Coach Rupp told me that he had never heard of Hill, I did not doubt him in the least, but I said, "Adolph, there was a representative from the University of Kentucky here."

"Well," he said, "it might have been the football representative because the University of Kentucky is paying a football scout who is connected with the University a salary of $3,600.00 a year just to scout football material." And I said, "There is the answer, no doubt. Both Hill and McDonald were football players."

The Journal-World never did say that Coach Rupp or any of his emissaries were contacting these Lawrence high school boys, but they did make a point out of it that a University located in this town was faced with a situation of other scouts coming into their own environment and making a proposition of $90.00 a month.

To substantiate further that believe, Mr. C. E. McBride in his last Sunday's column heads up his Sporting Comment with these headlines: "Kansas City Boys Listen to Sales Talk of University of Kentucky Emissaries". . . The artist sketches an outline of a stadium against a background of university buildings. It shows two young itinerants on the road with their satchels, and above one's head it says, "Board - Room - Tuition!" And the other soliloquizes, "All this for nothing!"

The point that I am getting at, P.B., is this - that we are scheduling games with several teams this year in football, everyone of which is doing exactly what the University of Kentucky is doing. Yet if Kansas would or could go half way between the position the University of Kentucky has and the University of Kansas is at the present and has been doing, they doubtless would make better athletic showings.

There certainly must be something wrong when so-called respectable people and respectable institutions break every law that is written in the book and nobody does anything about it. Yet when things like that are discussed on the campus of Mount Oread - tsk! tsk!

What's wrong?

Sincerely yours,
Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

Kansas City Boys Listen to Sales Talk of University of Kentucky Emissaries. . . . Everett Shelton Goes Back to College Basketball After Another Whirl in the Independent Field Woolf Has Stable of Thirty-four Horses at Chicago Track. . . . A Man Who Follows the Races But Never Sees One.

(By The Star's Sports Editor.)

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY emissaries evidently are out-bidding the college alumni of this sector.

That deduction comes from the knowledge that two Kansas City boys, high school football seniors of last fall, are now enrolled in the Southeastern conference's member in Lexington, Ky. These youngsters may not have sold their athletic ability to the highest bidder, but undoubtedly their records in high school football enabled them to take advantage of the offers of the University of Kentucky.

The young men in question are Bob Feiring, a guard on the Northeast high eleven, and Roger Yost, a Paseo halfback. The latter was out of the game a part of last season with a thigh injury, but it is said that he will be ready for football this fall.

The University of Kentucky is a member of the conference that permits the solicitation of athletes and pays tuition, room, board and other emoluments for athletic services.

Everett Shelton Returns to College Basketball.

THE name of Everett Shelton may mean little to you, but if you happen to be one of Kansas City's thousands of tournament basketball patrons you'll remember the great Wyoming university team he brought here in 1942 to win the western playoffs in a Madison Square Garden championship game and, victorious there, went on to beat St. John's in the great Red Cross benefit game that netted more than $35,000 for the Red Cross.

Everett Shelton was the coach of that Wyoming team.

Shelton was in Kansas City last week. He was on his way home to Laramie where he will take up the mantle of basketball coaching on a 10-year contract the coming winter. When Wyoming abandoned all intercollegiate athletics after the season of 1942, Shelton took a job with the Dow Chemical company at Midland, Wis. He took his powerful player, Kominich, with him. This lad was 4-F in the draft, and all because he stood one inch above the army regulations of 6 feet 6. Kominich has another year of college competition, and we'd hate to be offering any odds that he'll not be back at Wyoming when the 1944 college schedule opens.

Shelton is one of the most experienced coaches of basketball in the profession. His coaching wisdom is a balance between what he has learned in college basketball, and the trickiness of independent basketball as demonstrated by the best of the A. A. U. teams. He was coach of the Safeway Stores teams of Denver, McCracken and all that gang, and as you know he has won a national championship in the intercollegiate world. He knows all the answers, including that of getting an opposing star out of the game in a perfectly legitimate manner as far as the rules are concerned. Let him foul himself out. If the opposing coach sizes up the situation correctly he can make his moves to counter and quite likely successfully.

Wyoming is now going back to intercollegiate competition, and Everett Shelton is returning to the college brand of basketball.

Bunny Oakes, former Nebraska line coach, is head football coach at Wyoming. Elton Davis, the athletic director who has made many friends here on his visits with Wyoming basketball teams, has a leave of absence from the university and is managing the Connor hotel in Laramie.

KANSAS STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

REES H. HUGHES, PRESIDENT
PITTSBURG, KANSAS

February 25, 1944.

Mr. Forrest C. Allen, Lawrence, Kansas
Mr. Reaves Peters, Kansas City, Missouri.

Gentlemen:

I have just read the communication from Dr. Allen relative to play by Paine late in the Kansas game at Norman and his impression of me as formed from unreliable information obtained from Don Barrington.

I am surprised that Dr. Allen did not see ALL of the play that resulted in a goal by Paine. It started as Dr. Allen has stated but it certainly did not end as he states that it did. The truth of the matter is that Paine received the ball at the center of the free throw line, he pivoted and went into the air for a shot. For some reason or another he decided not to shoot and dropped the ball to the floor while both of his feet were still in the air. After both feet were on the floor he caught the ball as it rebounded from the floor and without further movement, shot it into the goal. Had either foot touched the floor after his jump before the ball left his hands, he would have been called for having traveled. As it happened, he had dribbled and was eligible to shoot.

It is true that Don Barrington came to Pittsburg to see our school and planned to enter K.S.T.C. the fall after he graduated from High School. He did not enter college that fall but went to California instead. I heard from him that winter and the following summer after he had returned to Kansas City. I saw him in Kansas City during the summer after he had attended Kansas City Junior College one winter. He told me that He had been at a big dinner the evening before when the athletes of Kansas City had been entertained by the Kansas University coaches and that he had decided to go with some of his friends to Kansas University. I certainly said nothing that was not complimentary to the coaching staff at K.U. or of the school.

I have always liked Don Barrington and have been pleased with his success at K.U. I have enjoyed meeting him at such times that I have seen him and know of no motive for him to have fabricated the tale that I have it in for him. If I had it in for him, I certainly would have called a fourth foul on him early in the second half at Norman for he certainly gave me many opportunities.

I was not at all pleased with the game at Norman, in question. The attitude of the players, the coaches and the crowd always influence an official's feelings about a game. I have officiated for over twenty-five years. I can recite the rules, I know the proper interpretations and I am fearless even tho Dr. Allen might think otherwise. In this game, I called all of the fouls that were called except three. I called several fouls that were made directly in front of the other official. It never works for the best when this becomes necessary.

REES H. HUGHES, PRESIDENT

The Oklahoma bench was quiet and took decisions as they came as they always do. The Kansas bench was up protesting many of the decisions and there was a constant flow of advice to the players from the Kansas bench. I do not expect a coach to sit quietly on the bench and do not think him much of a coach when he does. I have never objected to the manner that Dr. Allen conducts himself on the bench but I have never liked the conduct and attitude of Dean Neismith, the Kansas Trainer. He is abusive to the officials and in this game at Norman, I called a foul on the Kansas bench for remarks that he made. Officials have had this problem to contend with when working Kansas games for quite a number of years.

I feel confident that Dr. Allen will get better officiating and that his crowd will react better just as soon as he is able to control the conduct of his bench.

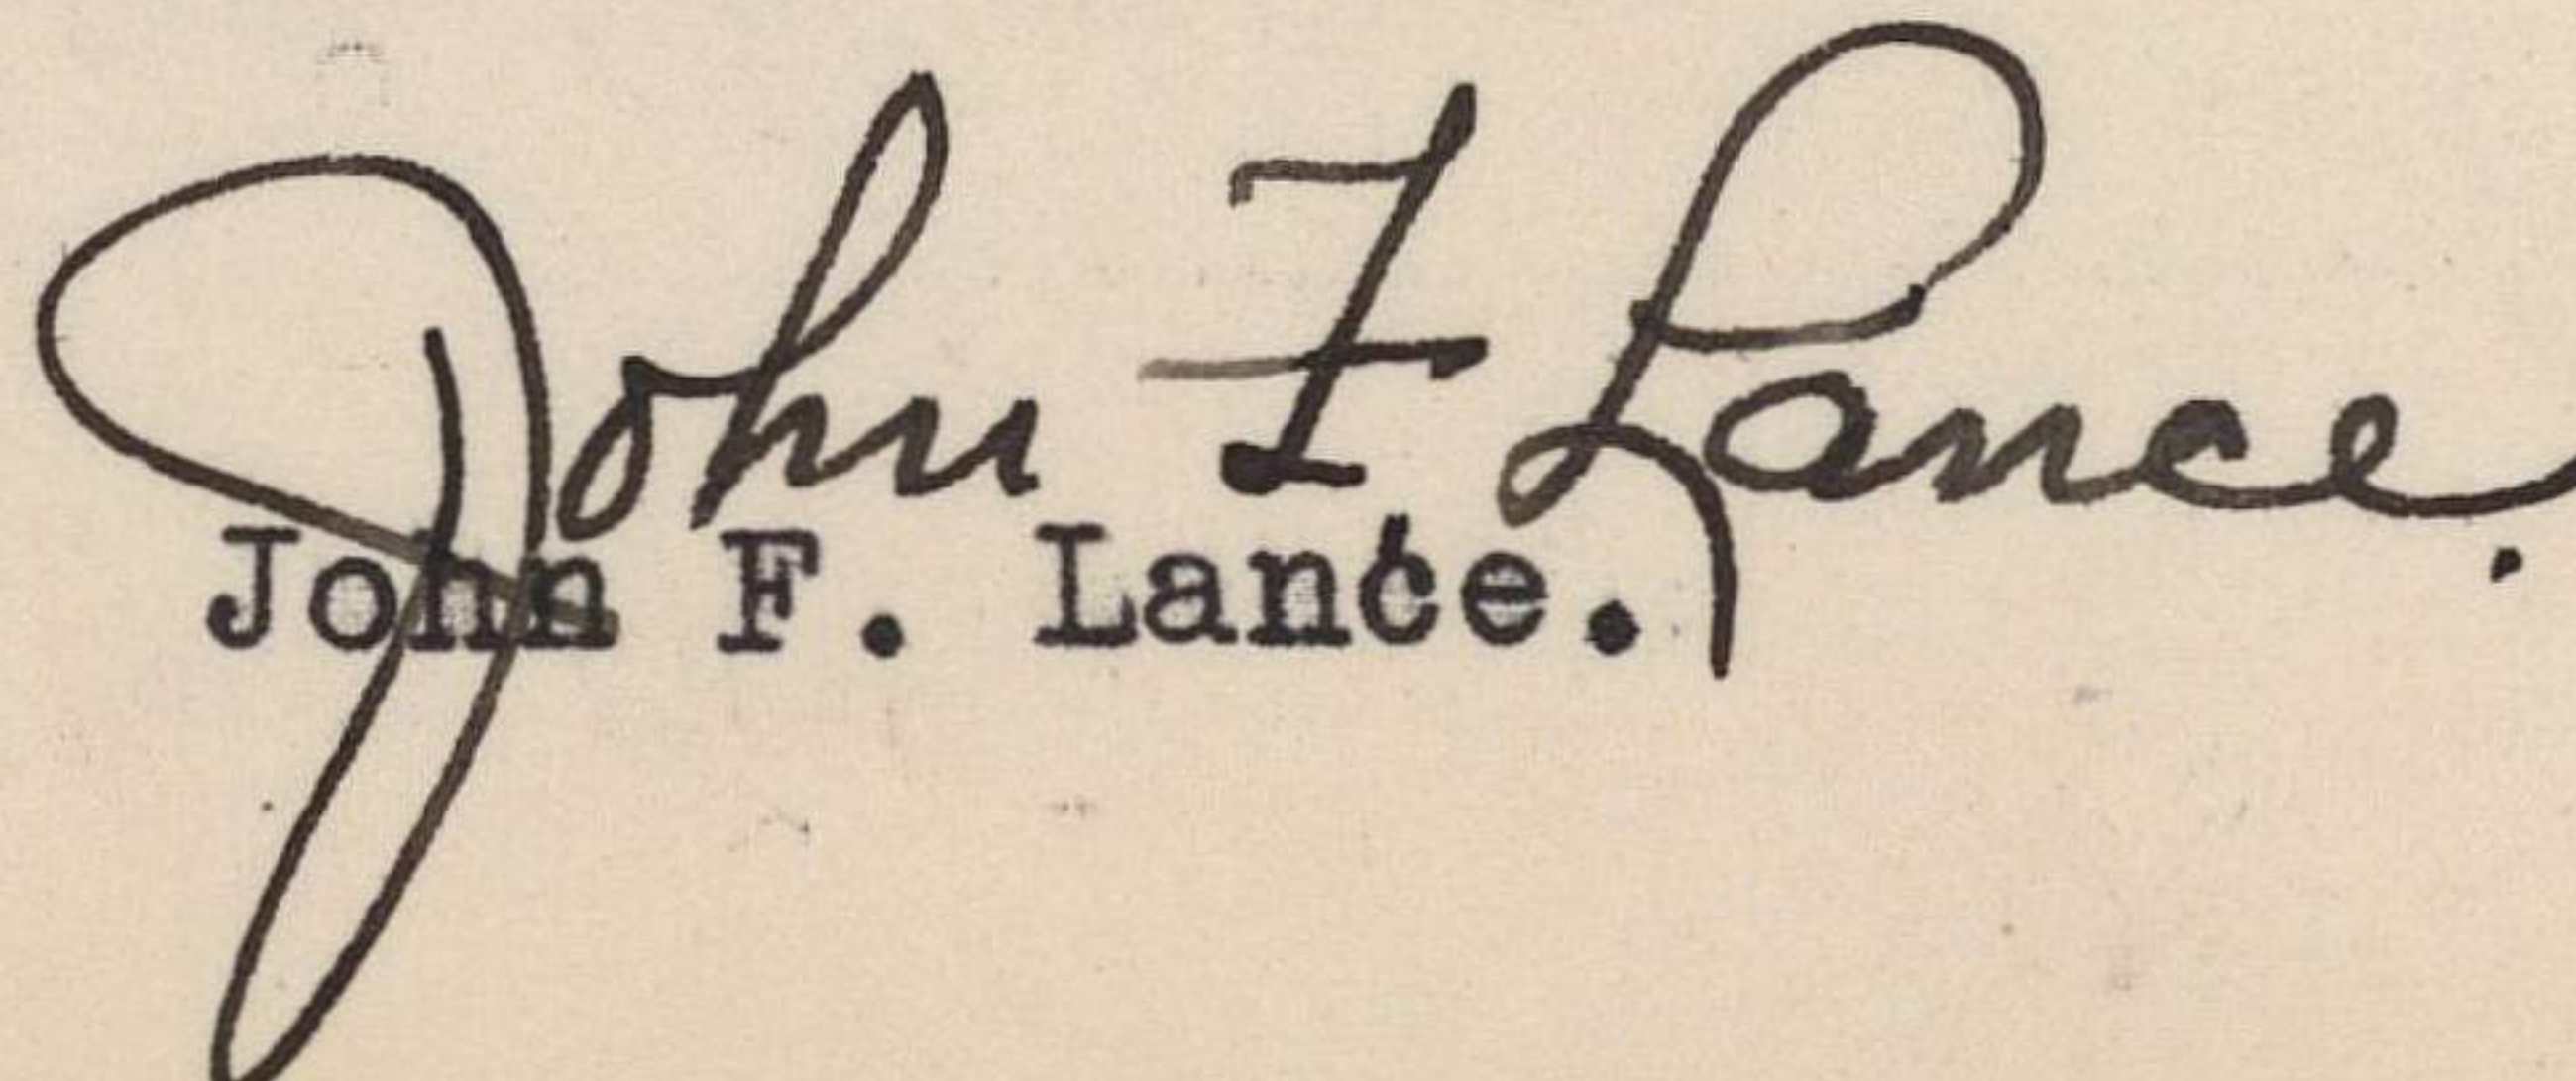

I was in Norman last week to work in the Oklahoma A.& M. game and heard many expressions from individuals relative to the attitude of Dr. Allen following the Kansas game at Norman the week before. Strange as it may seem, the individuals whose names Dr. Quoted in his letter as having agreed that the officials had failed to call an all important violation, were the very individuals who expressed to me their entire satisfaction that the game was well officiated even though Dr. Allen did not.

I am very sorry that Dr. Allen was not satisfied with the game at Norman but do not feel that the outcome of the game was determined by any mistake or mistakes that may have been made by the officials.

I am scheduled to work the Missouri game in Lawrence Saturday night and I shall be very happy for Dr. Allen to arrange for me to see Don Barrington in his presence and if the boy is at all fair, I am sure that I can convince both Don and Dr. Allen that I do not dislike Don and that I have not been guilty of having made uncomplimentary and unprofessional remarks about the University of Kansas Athletic Department.

With kindest regards for all concerned. I am

Most Sincerely,

John F. Lance.

Dear Mr. Sutphin:

It was very nice of you to write me as you did in your letter of February 5th. You certainly have been very thoughtful regarding Norman Locking's future. If all employers were as thoughtful concerning the welfare of their employees as you have been I am sure it would be a very happy world.

Yes, you are quite right. I am the basketball coach here at the University of Kansas and have been for 28 years. I taught five summers at Springfield College, Springfield, Mass. I was giving a course in the Strategy of Basketball and another in the Treatment of Athletic Injuries. During one of my clinics Eddie Shore appeared with a bad knee. I was able to fix his knee and I learned after his knee had mended he went back in the game and made about $40,000 - so I am told.

About five years ago he phoned me and sent one of his players from Springfield. I was fortunate in fixing him up and felt very happy about it. I hope that we will have as good luck with Norman, although I told him that his age combined with the pounding that his knee has taken made his case not as favorable as the boy who came from Springfield, Mass. I will be happy to know how he is progressing.

And I do thank you for your thoughtfulness in sending the check.

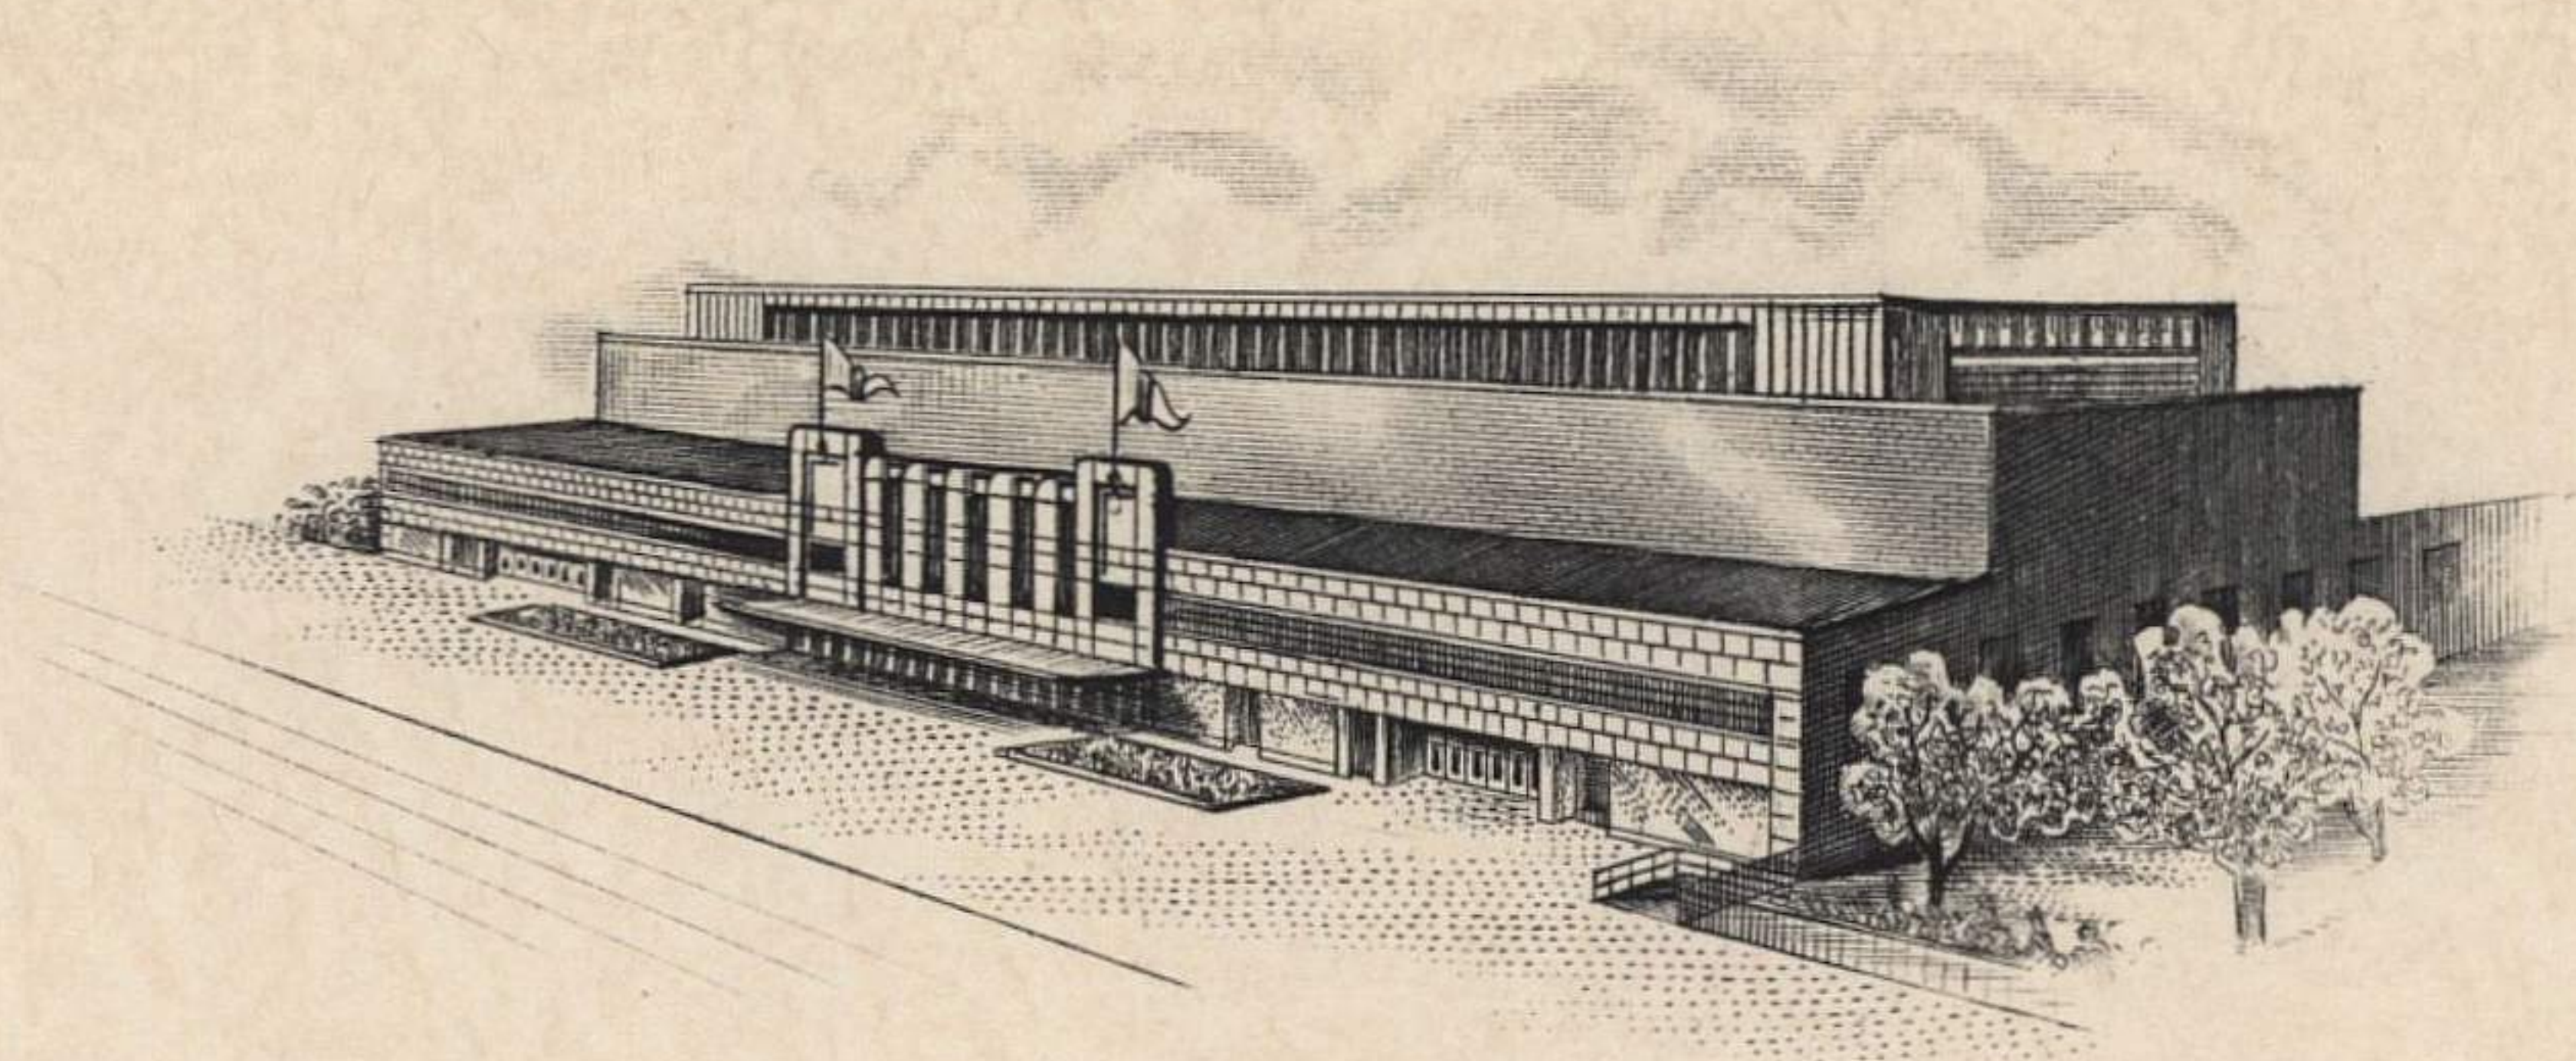

Very cordially yours,

Dear Doctor:

Your letter to my secretary, Miss Ansel, has been forwarded on to me at our farm at Ft. Myers, Florida. I want to thank you very much for the interest you showed in Norman Locking.

He is, of course, a veteran player whose use to us in the years to come is rather doubtful, still I hated to see him not have an opportunity, in fact every opportunity, toward recovery for the future. I should not like to have him feel that hockey has been injurious to him inasmuch as so many finish rather brilliant careers without serious mishaps.

Please know that we will watch Locking's recovery very carefully and advise you.

Also please know that you were recommended to us by Eddie Shore, General Manager of the Buffalo Hockey Club, and who, in his days, was the greatest hockey player to have ever played the game.

I believe you are the Dr. Allen of basketball fame and if so it is rather a coincidence that hockey people should go to a basketball personage for relief.

Attention: Mr. Al Sutphin

Dear Miss Ansel:

I am writing you concerning Norman Locking whom you sent me for treatment of his injured knee.

Mr. Locking arrived in Lawrence Sunday, January 16. I treated him Sunday afternoon and have treated him every day since, once or twice a day, including today.

I went over the history of Mr. Locking's two previous injuries and would naturally suspect a ruptured semilunar cartilage.

After several thorough examinations I found a very acute synovitis (inflammation of the joint) and a ruptured fascia of the long head of the biceps which permitted an edema (accumulation of serum in the cellular tissue) around the outer side of the knee joint.

Mr. Locking was suffering from a sacro-iliac sprain on the right side of the back which retarded the healing processes to the knee. A part of his trouble came from the previous injury and not all of it from the last fall on the knee joint.

I adjusted the sacro-iliac, used diathermy daily, taped it with adhesive to encourage action and exercise with a view to reducing the excessive swelling and then had my trainer thoroughly massage and manipulate it twice daily to aid the movement of the joint and to increase the circulation.

The internal semilunar seems to be in good condition and in my opinion he should be able to get back into practice scrimmage in a very short while.

I would advise him to do pleasure skating for a while in that it may tone up and strengthen the capsular ligaments of the knee. I have given him a set of exercises designed to strengthen these ligaments further.

I would advise him while he is exercising on ice to wear the ace bandage reinforced by an elastic bandage over the right knee.

In addition to this he should take diathermy treatments during the convalescent stage at least three times a week or every other day.

In two weeks time he should be able to enter game competition.

This injury has been a very stubborn one but I am happy to say that I believe that he is now much on the mend. If there is anything that I can do further in the way of advise or suggestion, do not fail to call upon me.

Later I should be happy to know how he performs in competition and also to learn if he has any recurrence of his previous trouble.

Sincerely yours,
