this now all-year-round game of GOAL-HI is a lead-up game to bashottall. Bashothall, the game that I have been associated with for over 77 years, is rated as perhaps the most popular sport in America today.

Then more than 80 million people each year pay to see a game there can be no question of its popularity. Unfortunately, that group of 80 million consists of spectators who sit on the sidelines and watch several thousand teems of only five players each play the game.

knowing these things, and in view of the fact that basistball/we play it is an indeer sport, limited to the winter season, and with an eye on that group of 80 million spectators whom I would like to see step across the sidelines and become players. I have been gradually developing a game that I am hopeful will find thror as a winter and summer, indeer and outdoor sport or recreational activity same Americans of all ages.

The rules of GOAL-III are very simple. The bashet is the focus of activity for both the offense and the defence. Therefore, very few balls are caused to go out of bounds and the play is very rapid but is less fatiguing than the regular game of bashetball where the teams shuttle from one bashet to the other. A free throw following a foul counts one points. A field goal in the 15 foot radius circle scores two points, while a field goal between the 15 and 30 foot radius circle is valued at three points. This three-point goal will encourage shooting from longer distances and will clear up the congestion around the bashet.
