Dear Jack:

Since I was out of town at the time that your three tickets arrived, I am returning them to you. However, we did go to see Ernie Pyle's "Story of G. I. Joe", but it was Saturday night and, of course, we could not use these tickets. I am sorry that I could not be the means of sending you a $1.23 for these three tickets.

Certainly if I had been in town, I would have delighted to have responded to your Vice-Commander George O. Starkey's appeal.

Sincerely,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
