My dear Phog:

The Markley's have a darling daughter who plans to attend K.U. to begin this September. Her mother (not to mention her father) is anxious that the daughter make the entry to the University in due form and with proper decorum.

We have heard of the customs (of the service) that certain homes are made available to entering students for a limited period who may or hope to be asked to fraternize with others. Will you suggest such a place in keeping with the mother's fond fancies of good taste?

For the past six months I have awaited that call from you for golf and dinner with us here at the Fort. Time is "flewning", golf balls more scarce, and always a transfer is possible to all members of our Armed Forces, however none is anticipated. Soon I will presume you are afraid either of your golf or the potluck you will get in the army. Write the dope.

Sincerely,

R. L. Markley
