

ourselves together again.

Ray, as you perhaps know, had a complete breakdown three years ago. He collapsed while at a National Shrine Convention in Baltimore and they took him back to Md's. I spent a goodly part of that summer with him - He was able to go back to his work in Oct. and carried on right along apparently, recovered from the nervous disorder. He had a gall stone attack late last Sept. and tho' he would be operated on, and I again was called to be with him. After a two weeks stay in the hospital, after the Doctor advised operating - he took a chance, on going back to school and staying on a diet - instead of losing time for an operation. I imagine that helped toward weakening him, for he worked hard, and carried outside work besides his school work - and he still had
