putting these statements down in words.
But too, I again want to sit in a room with you and tell you some things that would appear afterward in a letter which has already grown too lengthy - It would deal with the proper conception of training, loyalty, friendships, duties and your ultimate success - the things that I sincerely desire for you.

The very next day after our luncheon date at the Pennant, I called on J. V.
Hamilton & Miss Anne Laughlin re Fred Harris. I never lose an opportunity in endeavoring to put our boys over.

I thank you for calling my attention to this matter and when I return to Lawrence about Sept 8th I hope to have a friendly and an important conference.

Sincerely

James E. Green
