

But, Lou, I am game enough to make any normal sacrifice to stop that mad dog over there. If he whips the French and English, then we are in a bad position to talk about fighting. Personally, I would be very much in favor of revising the neutrality law to the point that we would have cash and carry, and then when their funds were exhausted, darned if I wouldn't vote for our country giving all the ordnance they need. But I would not vote to send our sons until such a time that they were badly needed. And then I would even be willing to do any darn thing that our country should ask of me to put that mad dog in a place where even his breath wouldn't disturb anyone else.

Our love to your family.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
