New York City, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Hyland:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of November 15. The pages which you enclosed seem all right. Therefore, as you suggest, I shall not bother to return them.

The front matter of the book, together with the group of revised pages and index, are on the way back to New York by special delivery. I mailed them this morning. It required some time and quite a bit of detail to check the index and all of the diagrams.

Very sincerely yours,
