BETTER BASKETBALL

Dear Dr. Allen:

I have received your letter of November 13th requesting a set of the photostats of all of the diagrams. I would be very glad indeed to accede to your request, but unfortunately, most of the photostats were thrown away. The only purpose the photostats served was for tracing, and when the tracings were approved there was no further use for the photostats, and they were accordingly thrown away.

While I cannot let you have photostats, I can release the tracings. These are now of no further use to us and you are entirely welcome to them. I am dispatching them separately today by insured parcel post, together with the photographs of the exhibits with which we have also finished and which you doubtless will wish to have back.

If there is anything further you wish, or there is anything I can do for you, I shall be only too glad to, if you will let me know.

Very truly yours,

W. J. Gartner
