Dear Dr. Allen:

When I told you the night you were with us that I thought I had the address of Claude J. Sample, it turned out that I was over-confident. I did think I had it. After diligent search the only address I can locate is his last Washington, D. C. address, which is:

1606 Kearney, N. E.
Washington, D. C.

There is a strong possibility that a letter to that address would be forwarded to him.

Surely enjoyed both your speech and our visit the other night.

Kindest regards and all good wishes to you, and more strength for your work.

Sincerely,

Edward L. Baker
