The National Basket Ball Coaches Association is considering a medium of contact with its membership. This bulletin is a personal effort, to elicit opinions. It is being sent to every member. The Bulletin should be procurable at all clinics or from the Secretary. The members are requested to send in suggestions and contributions. The High School coaches are invited to send in specific requests for articles, and incidentally a small contribution to defray increased expenses. The response to this bulletin will determine the future policy in regard to similar efforts.

A method of contact has received extensive discussion at the last two annual meetings. A number of contributions were made to the Athletic Journal last year under this guise. Some of the members felt that a direct communication would be more efficacious. But printing and mailing costs come high. This bulletin is intended to soften up your bill. You have received something as a member, and so you can conscientiously send in a check for your dues. We plan to have some of these bulletins on hand. They will be free to members. To non-members, the cost will be a dime and a stamped addressed envelope, or fifteen cents. If the income does not justify other bulletins, we must seek other means of contact with our members. President Mundorf has pending an arrangement with the Associated Press. Of course, this bulletin involved some expense, so everybody should pay up. This matter merits the personal efforts of every coach. It must be realized that these papers will not spring up spontaneously. There must be suggestions, contributions, and correlation in getting the papers printed and distributed in a most efficient manner. Every member has some obligation to express himself positively or negatively. This paper carries a challenge to every coach. Do you want a bulletin of this kind issued at frequent intervals? Are you willing to make contributions and to help in distribution? Are you sufficiently interested to sit down and send in your opinion today? The Association wants to know.

DR. H. C. CARLSON, Secretary-Treasurer

The 1934 annual meeting of the National Basket Ball Coaches Association will be held in Atlanta, Georgia, March 29-30-31. This is immediately before Easter, and conforms in most cases to the Easter holidays. The time also brings the advantage of holiday rates on railroads. The headquarters will be at the Atlanta Athletic Association. President Mundorf is arranging for an edifying and enjoyable three days, with meetings in the mornings and the evenings, and recreation in the afternoons. He will have Bobby Jones in on one of the meetings and one of Bobby's golf courses will be available for play. One of the proposed innovations of this years meeting, will be some games. Official permission has already been granted to the Pitt team to make this holiday jaunt. Anyone, who has never attended an annual meeting, should plan to attend this meeting.

Atlanta presents the first departure from the alternate New York and Chicago meetings. There was a wholesome effort to bring next years meeting to Pittsburgh, but promises for the following year caused a graceful pass.

The next two pages present an offensive system in detail, some notes of general interest, and the Coaches Creed.

On the last page is an official bulletin on the recapitulation of rule changes for next year by Mr. Owsald Tower,—Editor of the official basketball guide.

P.S.:--WILL SEE YOU AT THE NATIONAL CONVENTION, ATLANTA, GEORGIA

EASTER VACATION -- MARCH 29, 30, AND 31, 1934
