Mr. A. A. Schabinger,
Secretary-Treasurer,
National Association of Basketball Coaches,
Creighton University,
Omaha, Nebraska.

Dear Schabie:

Again I have delayed answering your letter immediately. I received letters from "Piggy" Lambert, E. L. Romney, Ed Wachter and a number of the other fellows who are very much interested in the coaches association. Leo Novak writes that you did not send him enough blanks. You only sent him fifty and he claims he had seventy to mail out. I wonder if you would make inquiry from people you mailed blanks out to to see if they could use more of them.

I have written to the different Membership Chairman urging that they push the membership proposition for all it is worth. I have also written letters to the different chairmen asking them to go forward with their various projects as rapidly as possible. But the membership deal is the big one at present. I am taking the matter up with Ward Lambert regarding the basketball rules committee Letters regarding the other features such as the entertainment committee, program committee, etc., will follow.

Please do not ^{be} abashed at all in writing as many letters as possible to these various individuals. In this way we are able to form a closer alignment and friendship which will result in our mutual helpfulness when we meet in Chicago. I have written a letter to Leo Novak urging that he attend the meeting in Chicago. I made it strong enough so that he could turn it over to his Athletic Board. He says they have plenty of money and will send him We should have a large meeting in Chicago.
