

August 25, 1927.

Mr. A. A. Schabinger,
Director of Athletics,
Creighton University,
Omaha, Nebraska.

My dear Schabby:

I am sorry to trouble you so much. Somehow, my stenographer misplaced the letter that I wrote giving you the names of the appointments, etc. Will you kindly send me a carbon copy of the letter I wrote you, with whatever corrections you have made?

I should be very happy to see Gus Tebell on the Board of Trustees and trust that he will accept. F. Krisler is Fritz Krisler. He is the manager of A. Staggs National Basketball Tournament. Perhaps he should not be on there, if he is not a competitive coach, but it was my idea that he was Freshman coach there, and would qualify. I believe he was on the reception committee, was he not,

I have been moving around from pillar to post so much that I do not have things assembled as yet. I shall appreciate it very much if you will send me the full line of appointments, acceptances and possible substitutions.

With every good wish, I am

Very cordially yours,

Director.
