

208 Dunmoreland St.

Springfield, Mass.

June, 20, 1942.

Dr. F. G. Allen
University of Kansas
Lawrence, Kan.

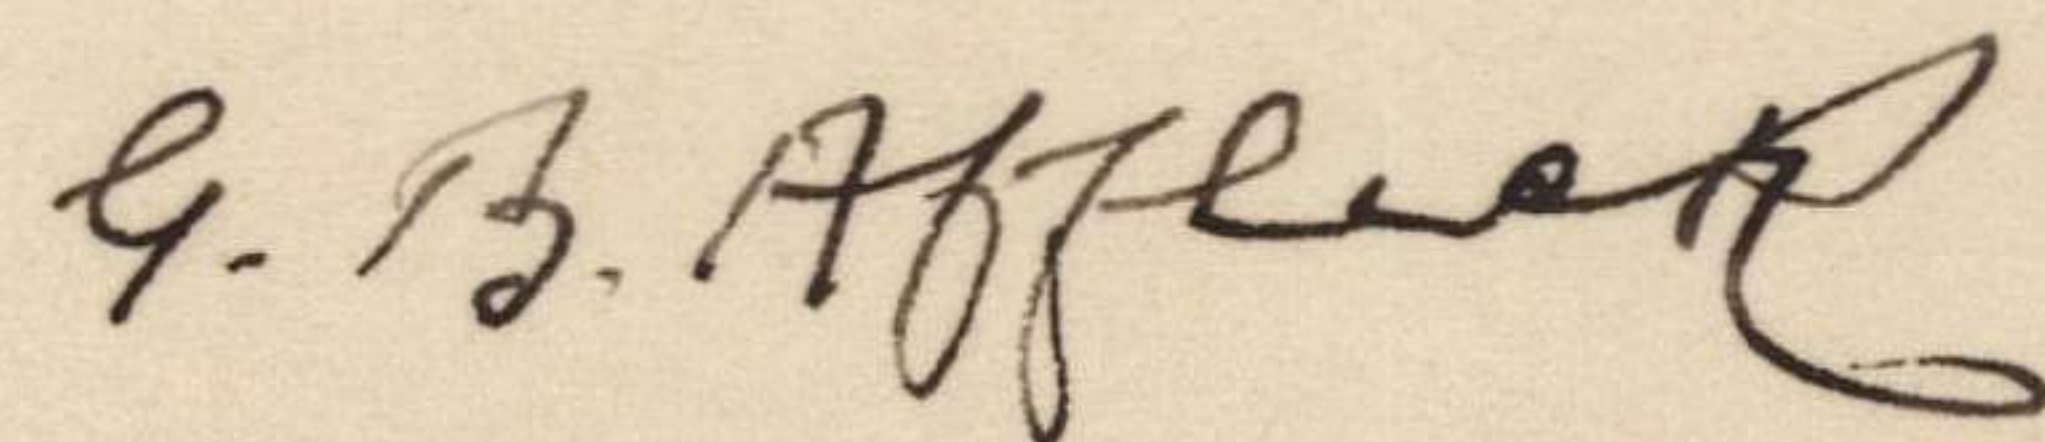

Bear Dr. Allen,

Here again comes that pest.

I regret that the publishers are becoming so insistent that I fear they will refuse copy unless it is delivered very soon. You see they want to publish in time to advertise and sell the text for the coming academic year, and you know something of how long it takes to set up the type, correct proof, repage, run through the presses, fold, clip and bind.

Believe me, I deeply appreciate your willingness to prepare a "write up" of Dr. Naismith, and have same included among those who have contributed to our profession.

Sincerely

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "G. B. Affleck". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long, sweeping tail on the final letter.

G.B. Affleck, retired.