

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF BASKETBALL

This is the architect's conception of the Naismith Memorial Museum and Basketball Hall of Fame which will be erected at Springfield, Mass.—the site of the first game—in honor of Dr. James Naismith, who invented the game when he was a young instructor at Springfield College in 1891. In its archives will be preserved in perpetuity the names, records, and accomplishments of all the great players and teams of past, present, and future generations. The Naismith Memorial will be open to the public at all times. It will serve to give the great pastime of basketball substance and permanence. It will do honor to a man who has brought pleasure to millions all over the world. It will also be the finest edifice ever erected in honor of a sportsman.

Backbone of the Golden Jubilee of Basketball will be the Golden Ball games played by teams everywhere. A Golden Ball Game is a regularly scheduled contest that has simply been designated as such, and the receipts from this game go to the Naismith Memorial Fund.

Every team that plays a Golden Ball game will be honored by having its picture, together with a record of the game, placed in the Hall of Fame.

The City College Faculty Athletic Committee has designated its contest with Springfield College on December 20 as its Golden Ball Game, and the net receipts will be turned over to the Naismith Memorial Fund.
