Dear Dr. Allen,

Thank you very much indeed for your kindness in forwarding the excellent glossy print. I trust the editors can use it in their make-up.

- I have not yet mailed it since I am waiting for glossy prints for reproduction from the Alumni office of some scenes in the life of Dr. Naismith to accompany this one of yourself. The material is not scheduled much before November so I may have your print in my hands longer than you like. I have offered to pay for the other prints. Might I pay you for this also? Then I would have it for use in a Saturday Evening Post or other article which I should like to write sometime since I feel that this brief sketch to appear in the Christian Herald is not the only piece I have in my system, on the subject of Dr. Naismith and basketball. (I may be wrong of course.) In any event, I am grateful for the use of the picture.

Cordially yours,

M. Whitcomb Hess
