

chance to further his education.
I do not believe that athletics are an end but I do believe that they may be a means to an end, and in that spirit the first letter was written. I, as you, do believe that his education comes first.

I now realize that my letter was not of good judgment on my part - it was not a mistake of commercialization but a mistake of over eagerness to help the boy and in experience on my part.

I do appreciate your letter and I'm sure I'll not make this same mistake again. May I hear from you again?

Respectfully yours,

Audy Neroki
