

November 8, 1937.

Mr. Don E. Naden, Physical Director,
Young Men's Christian Association,
Bay City, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Naden:

Answering your kind favor of the first instant, beg to state that the Eastman Kodak Company, of Rochester, New York, had me film a two-reel movie for them on the fundamentals of basketball. I have no royalty or interest in the film other than doing the work for them. Harry Kipke, of Michigan, filmed the football picture for them. It is a part of their serial in teaching fundamentals. The film is offered for sale by them to universities and colleges.

Most every university that has an extension division rents the film for a nominal sum. The University of Kansas rents it for $3.00 plus postage, and I am sure that Michigan, Wisconsin and all the visual education departments in these schools have the same arrangement. Mr. Fred S. Montgomery is secretary of our visual instruction division at the University of Kansas. If you are unable to get the film closer than here, if you will write Mr. Montgomery he will be glad to send you this film for that date.

This last August Dr. H. C. Carlson, of the University of Pittsburgh, Clair Bee of Long Island University, John Bunn of Stanford, George Keegan of Notre Dame, Dave McMillan of Minnesota, and I filmed a movie talkie under the direction of Chuck Taylor, the Converse Shoe Company representative. This picture was filmed in Kansas City. Wilson and Company, of Chicago, the Converse people, and the Phillips "66" people cooperated in making this film. They estimate the cost to make this picture at $15,000. Chuck Taylor is now out over the country showing this film. However, the makers and owners of the film are known as Films, Inc., of Rock Island, Illinois. They have a representative for each state and you might write these people for information concerning the representative in Michigan.

However, if you want fundamentals for instructional and informational purposes, the Eastman film gives the full reel on individual defense, team defense, individual offense, team offense. I believe this film covers it more thoroughly than the work done by the six coaches in showing a part of their offense and defense.

Very cordially yours,

Dear Sir:

Mr. Harry D. Edgren of George Williams College, informs me that you have a basketball film that would be a suitable type for our basketball clinic that we are holding here on December 3.

I want a film which would include basketball fundamentals for instruction and information purposes. Will you kindly let me know what the rental fee is, and if this film you have is available, and what I may do to secure it?

The basketball clinic is a community project which we are planning to sponsor through our "Y".

Dear Jerry:

I am happy to collaborate with you on any phase of the game of basketball that you desire. If this article is too long, cut it. You newspaper men have an uncanny knack of doing that sort of a job just about right. I am hurrying this article through so that you will get it by the date you desire, namely December 2nd.

I might tear this title apart for you. "The Stratified Transitional Man-For-Man Defense With the Zone Principle" means exactly what it says. It is a stratum of the man-for-man and a stratum of the zone. We pick our men at the start of the game, each one of our men picking a defensive opponent. We slide, switch or trade opponents as the situation indicates.

The two defensive forwards play man to man defense, while the two guards and the center form a triangular defense with the center on the apex but in a retreating position. When we have an even number of opponents we play them man to man. When they outnumber our defensive setup with their offensive power we play them with the zone principle, but always ready to shift into a straight man to man when the tension eases.

I believe these few words explain our principle of the defense. We do not play a zone, but we get credit for it, so why complain.

With all good wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,

Dear Phog:

We'd like to enlist your aid in getting out a basketball series for this season. Here's the story:

We're asking a couple of coaches in each section of the country to write one story on some phase of the game...four or five paragraphs will do...or even some notes which we can put together here in the office.

We'd like to have a few of your ideas on "The Zone Defense", if you decide to help us out.

And when and if you send in your stuff we'd like to have a picture of you which we can use along with the story.

Inasmuch as we're scheduled to start this series Dec. 5, could we have your reply back in the enclosed stamped envelope not later than Dec. 2?

Thanks very much, and we hope you decide to get in on this series.

Sincerely,

Jerry Brondfield

THE STRATIFIED TRANSITIONAL MAN-FOR-MAN DEFENSE WITH THE ZONE PRINCIPLE.

When an outnumbered defense is confronted with the problem of potently defending the basket against scoring thrusts, the stratified transitional principle of both the man-for-man and the zone defenses is indicated.

The certain specific situations which need this principle of defense follow: (1) when one defensive man is confronted with two offensive forwards; (2) when two defensive guards are opposed by three offensive forwards; (3) when three defensive men are attacked by either four or five offensive men; (4) when five defensive men are confronted with five offensive opponents.

When a defense is not outnumbered by an offense, then the defense should be the stronger. Any outnumbered defensive group must expect the offense to shoot. But an effective defense must try to conserve its forces near the basket, by using the principle of the economy of defense.

At the same time, as far as is consistent with sane tactics, a defense must menacingly project its tentacles forward and out. The defense must of necessity play the man who has the ball ready for a shot at the basket, yet, on account of the number of offensive players against it, the defense will be forced to use the principle of the zone defense. Hence, a defense struggling to handle such situations will play a stratum of the man-for-man and a stratum of the zone. In other words, as emergencies arise there is a transition from one type of defense to the other. Therefore, we arrive at the complex title, "Stratified Transitional Man-for-Man Defense with the Zone Principle," for a simple transition from a stratum of a certain type of defense to a stratum of another type of defense.

The common conception of teamwork is that it applies only to the offense, but, in reality, it operates at its best on the defense. This misconception can be attributed to the fact that, in the early development of the game, the players in possession of the ball were the centers of attraction and the players not in possession drew very little attention.

When three or more offensive men attack the triangular defensive is imperative. The most vulnerable positions of the basket attack are situated where these three defensive men form their triangle. The guards are in their regular positions and the center is located on or just back of the free throw line. These three men flange outward or backward conjointly and coordinately as the play situation indicates. As the alien offensive men begin their scoring attack by passing the ball about vigorously from one to another, the defensive men shift accordingly, ever aware of the vulnerable points of attack. Each of the defensive men evinces alertness, courage and confidence. They all stomp their feet and manace continuously with their arms in fighting attitudes. In their desperate attempts to make their opponents miss the passes and ultimately to recover the ball, they shift back and forth and to the side and stomp and yell. Thus, by stimulating the auditory and optic nerve centers of the offensive goalsmiths, unfavorably, these outnumbered defenders are rendering them less potent than before. A desperate and determined three are these defensive-area basket musketeers.

They know that the offensive men near the basket are creating the most perilous situation, and that it is upon those men that they must concentrate. Should one of the offensive men out in the court attempt a shot, the defensive man nearest him, while feigning calmness for the moment, will be checking with himself for reassurance that he has covered all loopholes for passes, by or through his own defensive area, and to an offensive teammate under the basket.

Then, just as this offensive forward raises the ball in the act of shooting, this defensive man will feign a gigantic attempt to jump at him, at the same time will emit a startling yelp that often brings the desired result. His bent arms will fly up threateningly and his bended knees will clamp his feet to the floor, emphatically and noisily. Through the hundreds of thousands of years that men have been clutching at each others' throats, instinctive fears have been built up in every individual. And it is not easy for this high-strung offensive man to inhibit these disturbing stimuli.

As the ball leaves this offensive man's hands, the defensive men will whirl and swing back at top speed toward the basket for rebound work. They know that the law of averages is against the success of the long shot and that they, by recovering the ball, may profit thereby.

Mr. C. Nieman, Cashier,
Shawnee State Savings Bank,

Dear Mr. Nieman:

Thank you for your very good letter of August 23, extending condolences in the passing of my father. I assure you my philosophy is equal to the situation.

Dad had 85 very, very happy years, and if we believe in Nature and Nature's pattern-maker, I am sure that we can be compatible with the coming and going of life. I have not one regret in his passing because he had lived more than his allotted years, and his years were filled with extreme happiness. Dad had a buoyant personality and a very affable disposition which made life very pleasant for him.

I am turning over your check to Mr. Earl Falkenstein, the secretary of the Athletic Association. Earl was always my right hand man in securing for the patrons the best possible season tickets. You may count on the very best that are in the stadium on the west side. I have that much confidence in Earl.

I am also passing on the information to him that you will be happy to display the football window card and windshield stickers, so you may expect an allotment of these along about the time the ticket order is entered. It is very nice of you to offer to do these things, and we greatly appreciate them, I assure you.

I will be happy when you are in Lawrence to have you come in to say "Hello".

With appreciation, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education.

Dear Mr. Allen: While on my vacation I read in the K.C. Star the account of the death of your Father. I did not know of his prolonged illness as we have been rather out of touch with the family. His numerous friends at Shawnee will miss him as we always enjoyed visiting with him and valued his friendship.

Pat and I are looking forward to a good football season at K.U. this season. May I trouble you to secure two season tickets for us, on the West side as usual. Will leave the choice to you. My check in blank herewith.

March 21, 1938.

Mr. A. E. Eilers,
Washington University,
St. Louis, Missouri.

Dear Artie:

I wish to thank you very much for your very kind letter of March 15 giving me the information concerning my appointment to the Basketball Rules Committee. You know, they call me "Phog", and "fog" means dense or hazy.

Now, here is the thing that I still do not have clear. Dean Nicolson states that "he was first appointed to the committee in December 1932 to serve for four years." Of course that service date started as of September, 1932, and that would be for the academic year 1932-33. Therefore, my appointment would have terminated at the end of the 1936-37 academic year.

My new term would be beginning 1937-38, ending at the end of four years, 1940-41. It appears to me that in the N.C.A.A. News Bulletin of January, 1938, that if I am correct in these premises then my notation should be four years to serve instead of three.

You will recall that in the meeting in December, 1936, I was elected for a four-year term, and the term would start in 1937-38. That would be this year. In Dean Nicolson's statement on page 5 of this pamphlet for the Rules Committee for 1938, in the heading he says "For football, basketball, and track the figures 1, 2, 3, and 4 before the name of a member of the committee indicate that he is to serve one, two, three, or four years, beginning this year."

Therefore, if my first appointment of four years was from 1932 to 1936, then the next appointment of four years would begin in 1937 and since this is the year 1937-38, I would have 1937-38, 1938-39, 1939-40 and 1940-41. And since this is the beginning of the four-year term it seems as if it should be four years to run rather than three.

However, I will not worry about that because we will let that take care of itself.

Thank you very much, Artie, for your kindness. The only thing that I could not reconcile myself to was that I was just beginning my appointment, and he says that beginning this year there are three more years to run. It seems to me beginning this year there are four years to run, because this is the school year 1937-38. You look up the January, 1938, N.C.A.A. News Bulletin and see if I am not correct in my argument. I would say exclusive of this year I still have three more years. And I think I am right.

Let me hear from you.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

Dear Phog:-

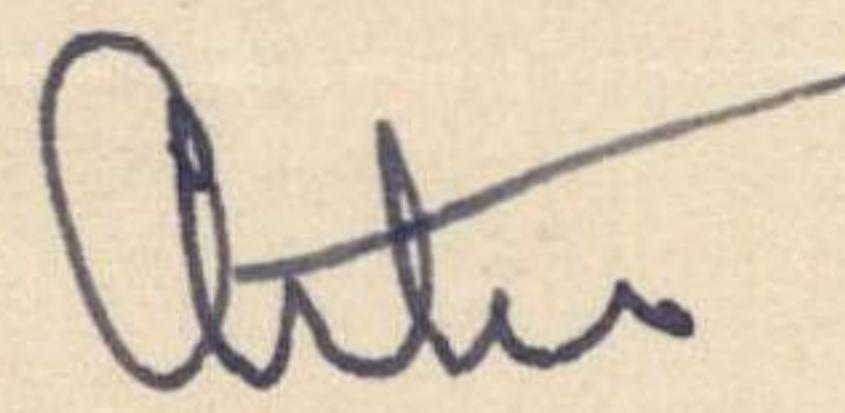

I looked into the matter of your appointment on the Basketball Rules Committee, securing my information from Dean Nicolson, Secretary to the National Collegiate group.

His letter in part is as follows: "I find no error in the proceedings of Mr. Allen's appointment to the Basketball Rules Committee. He was first appointed to the committee in December 1932 to serve for four years."

As I see it, your first four year appointment terminated at the end of 1936. Your next term of four years began with the year of 1937 and should terminate, inclusive of the year of 1940. Believe this will clarify the situation for you.

Congratulations on winning the Big 6 basketball championship. I know that your team will be right up there for the succeeding years also.

With kind personal regards

Mr. Artie Eilers,
Business Manager of Athletics,
Washington University,
St. Louis, Missouri.

Dear Artie:

You will pardon me for bothering you with a little detail, but I thought it the wisest plan to write you rather than write the secretary, Professor Frank W. Nicholson, of Wesleyan University.

On the N.C.A.A. News Bulletin as of January, 1938, edited by the secretary, Mr. Nicholson, he lists the rules committee for 1938. In the first paragraph he mentions that the figures 1,2,3, and 4 before the names of the committee members indicates that he is to serve 1,2,3 or 4 years, beginning this year.

I am writing you for information, and if the pamphlet is in error I would appreciate it if you would take it up with Mr. Nicholson. It was my understanding that I was elected for a four-year period beginning this year. I served my last term of four years for 1937. Consequently, if I have it correct, I would be beginning my first year in 1938.

Will you kindly let me know if I am correct in this matter? Or I can see you here on February 22 when you meet our men on your way back from Manhattan. We play Iowa State at Ames the 21st, and we will be back here to have a chat with you at the time your champions make the big splash.

With every good wish, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Round Table Conferences

Two Round Table Conferences were held on Wednesday, December 29, on the general topic: "The Responsibility of the College and University Administration for the Conduct, including Financial Aid and Control, of Intercollegiate Sports." The conference in the morning, intended primarily for the smaller institutions, was conducted by Professor Bilheimer, of Gettysburg College; the afternoon conference, for the large universities, was led by Professor N. W. Dougherty, of the University of Tennessee. A stenographic report of these discussions will be issued along with the Proceedings.

Annual Convention

The general session, open to the public, was held on Thursday morning, December 30, and was well attended. After the annual presidential address, the audience listened with pleasure to speeches by President Tigert, of the University of Florida, President Aydelotte, of Swarthmore College, and Mr. W. Branch Rickey, Vice-president of the St. Louis National Baseball Club. These addresses will appear in full in the Proceedings which will be printed within a few weeks.

Business Session

At the annual business meeting of the Association, open only to delegates of member colleges, and beginning at 2:00 o'clock p. m., the following business was transacted.

1. The Secretary reported on the Council meeting of the evening before, including a recommendation that the following institutions be elected to membership: Southwestern State Teachers College, The Citadel, Iowa State Teachers College, Wayne University, Montana State College, Central State Teachers College, Colorado College, Fresno State College, Northeastern University, Kenyon College, Beloit College, Davidson College, and Xavier University. They were all elected members.

2. The Treasurer presented his report, showing a balance on hand of $6,844.80. The auditor, Professor Badger, reported that the account was correct, and the Treasurer's report was accepted and adopted.

3. Mr. Eilers, for his committee, reported the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted.

RESOLVED, that the N. C. A. A. express its sincere appreciation of the splendid and efficient services performed by Professor Fred W. Luehring, who has served the Association as a member of the Swimming Rules Committee for a quarter of a century. Within that period he has served fifteen years as chairman of the committee, six years as editor of the Intercollegiate Swimming Guide, and the past year as a member of the advisory committee, thus contributing much to the success of intercollegiate swimming.

4. President Griffith reported on our relations with the A. A. U., and in particular on the recent meeting of the American Olympic Association in Washington, at which an amendment to their constitution was adopted placing the colleges in a more favorable position in the conduct of the Olympic Games.

5. Professor Badger presented his report of a meeting of the committee of the N. C. A. A. with one from the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, as a result of which an agreement was drawn up giving the management of the annual intercollegiate tennis championship meet to the N. C. A. A., provided that in the next three years, during which our committee will work in coöperation with a committee of the U. S. L. T. A., the results prove satisfactory. The report was accepted and adopted, and, if ratified by the U.S.L.T.A. at their meeting within a few weeks, will go into effect in 1938. The report will appear in full in the Proceedings. The president will appoint our committee, after receiving suggestions from the eight vice-presidents.

6. The Executive Committee were authorized to appoint a committee to confer with a committee from the National, the American, and the Minor Professional Baseball Leagues, on the subject of contracts entered into by these leagues with college undergraduates pledging them to serve with these leagues after graduation, and limiting them in various ways for the remainder of the college course. [Messrs. St. John, Badger, and McCormick were appointed later.]

7. Professor St. John presented a report of progress in the matter of an annual intercollegiate golf tournament to be conducted by the N. C. A. A. if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the U. S. Golf Association. Other members of Mr. St. John's committee are Messrs. Bushnell, of Princeton University, and Payseur, of Northwestern University.

8. The president was authorized, in consultation with the N. C. A. A. committee on the Federal Admissions Tax, to appoint if necessary a special committee to go to Washington and represent the universities and colleges in case the question of amending the present Federal Admissions Tax comes before Congress.

9. Mr. Bilheimer of Gettysburg College reported a resolution from representatives of 83 institutions belonging to the N. C. A. A. and having each an enrollment of 1,000 students or less, requesting the Association to appoint a permanent committee of five representatives of these institutions to integrate and make more definite points of view on athletic and institutional policies for this group to the end that their distinctive institutional problems may receive more constant and effective discussion and attention. An appropriation of not more than $300 was voted to the committee, which will consist of Mr. Bilheimer and four others to be chosen by him.

10. A vote of thanks to the St. Charles Hotel, Louisiana State and Tulane Universities, and Dr. Wilbur Smith of Tulane, for their arrangements for the comfort and entertainment of the delegates was unanimously adopted.

11. It was voted to meet in Chicago next year.

12. Dr. Wilbur Smith, for the nominating committee, presented a slate of officers for the ensuing year, which was unanimously adopted, as follows:

Dear Mr. Nason:

Thank you very much for your letter concerning Paul Terry. I have checked with our Alumni Office and our Registrar's Office here at the University of Kansas, and they find no record for either Paul Terry or Pablo Padilla.

He is certainly an unworthy chap, and the only way that I have had anything to do with him is through correspondence. On January 14 he wrote me the following letter:

"Dear Sir: Hoping that you will receive this letter and that you will be in the very best of health with your family.

"Next to say is that I have sent you some pictures of the Mission and I hope that they will be good and I will send you some more of the chapie soon. I have sent you two or 3 letters but I haven't received no answer so I hope that you are still at the University.

"Wishing you the very best of health and the very best of happiness to you and your family,

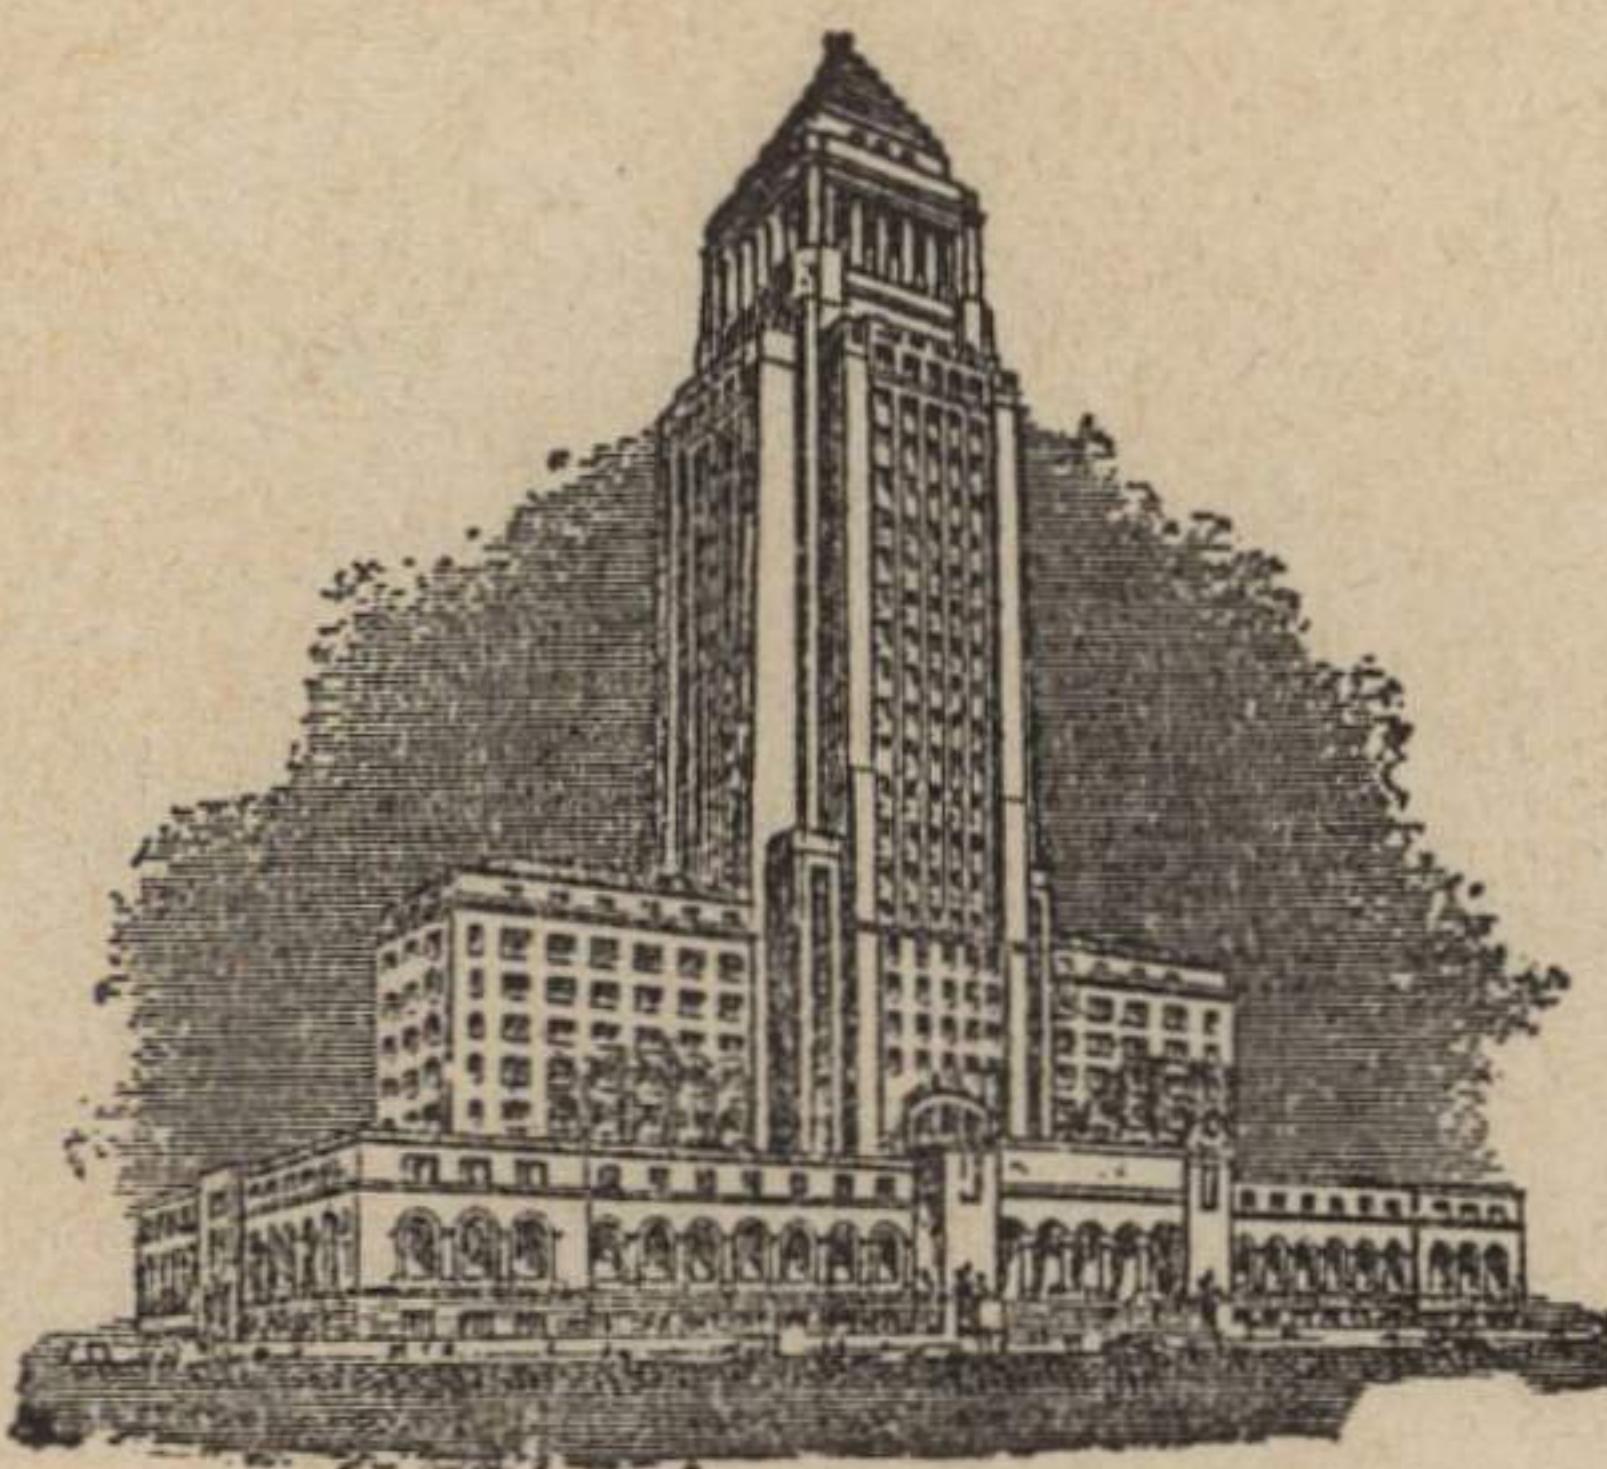

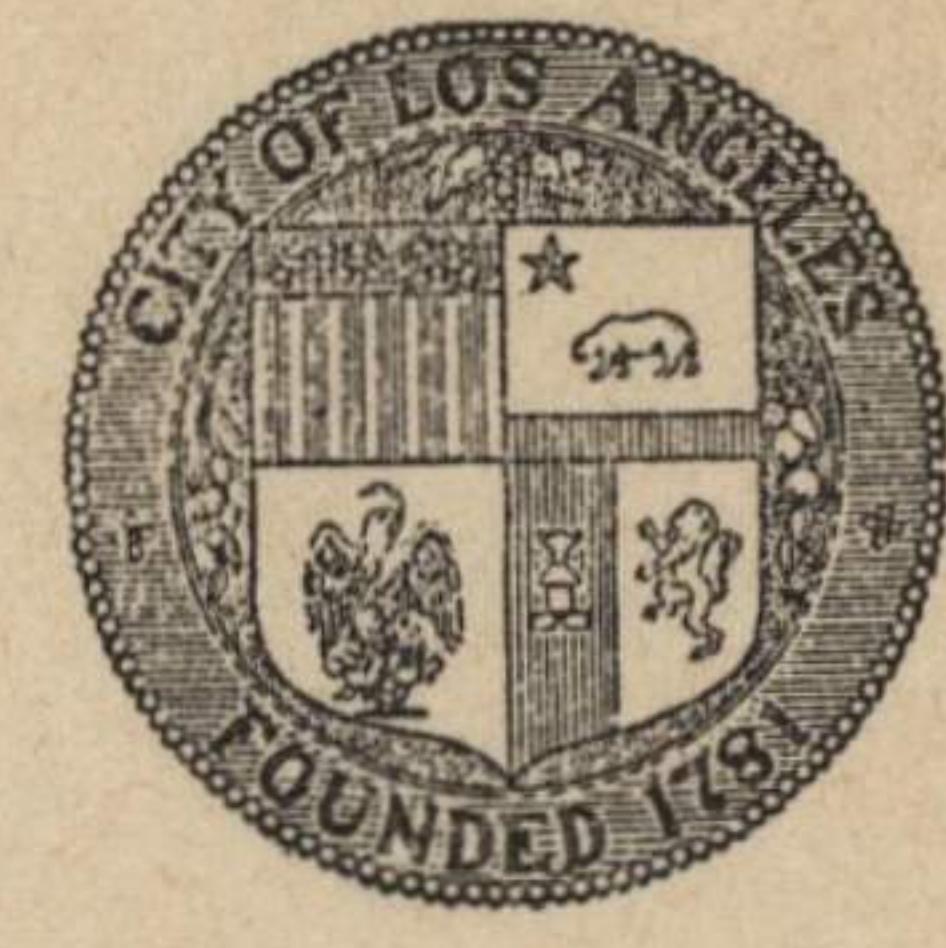

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) Paul Terry, Jr.

We thank you for the information regarding him, and appreciate it very much. We have notified the Alumni Office, so if he comes around this way he will not only receive a very cold welcome, but if he comes to see me he will receive some pretty pointed remarks on failure to appreciate decent hospitality.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

Dear Sir:

In going thru the effects of Paul Terry I have found your name and address. As a Reserve Officer on duty with the CCC I first met Terry in 1935, at which time he was a member of the Corps and assigned as truck driver at one of the Camps. At that time he gave every indication of being thoroughly trustworthy and honest. Accordingly, when he was discharged from the organization last Fall, broke and homeless, my wife and I took him in.

Among other stories told to us, was the one that he had attended your school for some three years. Others have told us that he claimed to be a graduate of the institution. After furnishing him with board, room, spending money and other favors for three months we finally got suspicious of him and ordered him out of our home. In addition to "sponging" on us for that length of time, he made an attempt to rape our little fourteen year old daughter in our own home and while my wife was away for a few minutes at the store.

I have information that Terry (whose true name, according to papers which he left, is Pablo Padilla, just plain Mex) has gone back to Kansas and I am giving you this information just in the event that he again tries to contact you.

Sincerely yours,

FORREST P. NASON

Dear Paul:

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your good letter of January 14. I have been so extremely busy with my basketball and my new work that it has been difficult for me to catch up on my correspondence. So you can see why I have not been able to answer all your letters.

Yes, I am still at the University, and we are doing very well. We are all happy and well, and I trust the same for you.

I am sending you a basketball schedule so that you can keep up with our progress when we play. We lost the first Oklahoma game in our conference, but have won the next three. Our next game is with Nebraska at Lawrence on February 2nd.

In our non-conference games we won 9 of our 10, losing to Drake at Des Moines on December 29. We have six more games to play in the conference.

With every good wish to you, I am

Sincerely yours,

● Another Mission Unit

CALIFORNIANS will be glad of the completion of the restoration of the La Purisima Mission near Lompoc, which adds another unit to the chain of missions in the state in a condition which can be appreciated.

State and national park services and the CCC combined to make this restoration possible. The restoration is a part of a large state park, and was recently dedicated as such.

The missions of California constitute an attraction which is one of the strongest for California residents and tourists alike. They represent one of the best associations which we can have with a past California that is gone for good.

Muddle-headed name changers and Coney island architecture has about done for most of the flavor of an earlier California, and the missions are the more appreciated. The same sort of callousness that is so prevalent today all but destroyed the missions for us too.

The building skill of the Indians under the direction of the mission fathers proved strong enough to make buildings that withstood the depredations of men, weather and time.

California is not the only state with early missions. Arizona has some fine examples, even older than ours. But it is in California that most of them are found, and in the best state of preservation or restoration.
