Dear Don:

You never miss a bet, Don. You are always right on the spot, and the right spot at that.

I genuinely appreciate your fine words of praise regarding our good basketball team. To me it is a parallel of the many struggles you have in your outstanding work across the way. I can appreciate with you the hours of travail and disappointment. Always fearful that the performers will not come up to your expectations, but they did in this case and I am thrilled to know that so many fellows like you and our other good friends were able to be happy with us.

It is darn nice of you to write as you did.

Sincerely yours,
