

WE are living in a furious epoch. New statements of human standards will appear as we emerge, new motives will dominate masses of men. The instinct to be at peace and to memorialize will be vastly stimulated. I hope these memorials will express new ideas in artistic forms. Living testimonies that remain fresh and are useful to the people should have primary consideration. Obligations will rest on the people to maintain them, and thus will memories not fade or become static. Good careful plantings on public properties will make new appeal year after year, they will stand for tranquil living, and they will bless us all with the beauty and the bounty of the earth.

L. H. Bailey

*Professor Emeritus of Horticulture
Cornell University*

