Dear Phog:

This is to report that everything is swell with the Partners and that we hope the same is true of the Allens. With football about to get underway my work is beginning to increase and it won't be long until the big rush is on.

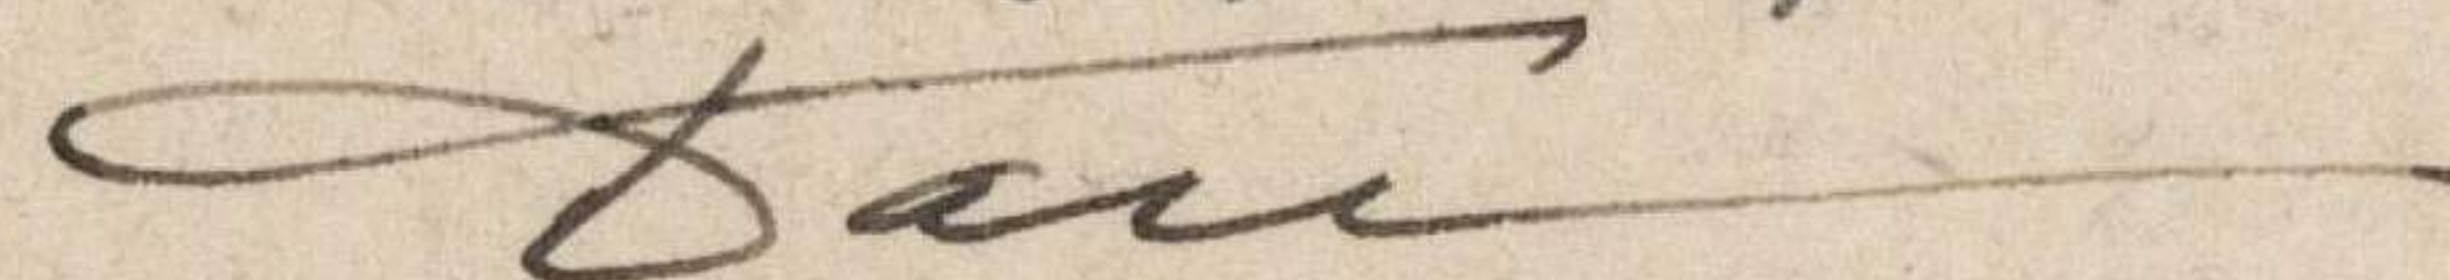

We rented a small house, our furniture finally arrived from Kansas City and we now are in the process of getting squared away for a stay here. We both like it here, it's a cozy little town and a grand personnel on the station. However, it is next to the impossible to get good meats or fresh vegetables and being Kansans, we find that hard to take.

Phog, there's a search on for some games to be played on the flight decks of aircraft carriers. The pilots need exercise and the relaxation that physical activity provides. Volleyball, softball and basketball are being played now but there's a huge loss of balls that go over the side into the Big Drink. I talked with Lieut. Roland Logan about it last night and hit upon the idea of using your Goal-Hi game. I've never seen it played and don't know whether it would solve the lost-ball problem but am sure you could tell me.

Remember Johnny Sabo, once an assistant grid coach at Kansas? He's Lieut. Comdr. Sabo here, in charge of the mass exercises and testing programs.

Mrs. Partner joins me in sending best regards to you, Mrs. Allen, Bobby and Mr. and Mrs. Mitt.

Sincerely yours,

Lieut.(jg) Dan Partner
