

May 7, 1943.

Dr. Don Carlos Peete,
Professional Building,
Kansas City, Mo.

Dear Dr. Peete:

I have just finished talking to Mrs. McSpadden and she was very happy indeed to hear from me because the Trotsells felt pretty much hurt about the matter. I have asked Mrs. McSpadden to write you because she can perhaps give you a better picture than I can. I have never met the Trotsells and for that reason I am further removed from the situation than Mrs. McSpadden.

Mrs. McSpadden also says that she is going to stop in to see you some time soon when she is in Kansas City.

From all reports that I get from Mrs. McSpadden, apparently an awkward situation was presented, but nobody blames you one iota for the thing that happened. It is just one of those situations. I explained to Mrs. McSpadden that your technician had asked to be relieved of her work but due to the scarcity of trained technicians she had been asked to stay on, and the fact that she had worked under pressure doubtless accounted for her lack of proper inhibitions when the Trotsell's came.

It is just one of those things and we will just have to charge it up to one of those explosions that should not have taken place.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

FCA:AH