

April 27, 1959.

Mr. L. E. Menze, Basketball Coach,
Iowa State College,
Ames, Iowa.

Dear Louie:

I still don't like Monday, February 26, for my game with you at Iowa State.

I received a letter from Ed Hickey wanting to play us on the 26th, and I would much rather play a game at Creighton than to play you at that time. I do not have your schedule, but I am wondering if you would send me a copy of your schedule to compare with mine. Doubtless George has sent you the schedule of all the teams so that you could make a comparison.

I would rather make the trip up there for that game some other time as I know you are going to be double tough, and it does look like we are going to have to use all we've got to play five hundred per cent next year. Miller's knee is in bad shape and it looks like he is out of football and basketball. With Miller in there I would be able to make a respectable showing, but with Miller out we are just sunk because we have no tall men and we did not draw any from our freshman group. So I want to give you a scrap.

I will play you anywhere between January 5 and 12, or between January 12 and 18, so that I will have a couple of days between one of these games and your game. I don't want to play on February 3 if I can keep from it. I could play you between the 12th and 20th of February at your place, or I could play you between March 1 and 8.

Louie, I will appreciate this switch if you can make it because I don't like that date that we agreed upon. You will remember that I asked you to change it up there, and then I swung back to it, but the more I think about it the worse it seems. So I will appreciate it if you will help me out.

I am leaving for New York Friday for the Rules meeting, and will not return until about the 6th of May, so you will have time