Mr. Jap Haskell,

Dear Jap:

Congratulations are in order, Jap. You remember at the beginning of the season I made a prediction that Oklahoma would win football, basketball and baseball championships. It is not because I think I am an oracle, but this letter of congratulation to you is for you personally in turning out a fine Sooner baseball team. You had a rocky road at the end of the season, but you came through like true champions, and the laurels are yours, sir.

With best wishes for your continued success, I am

Very sincerely yours,
