

mine, but we never did get the opportunity to say hello.

There isn't much I can say regarding my activities, inasmuch as the Navy seems to prefer that its boys maintain a greater silence or secrecy about their doings than does the Army. However, I have been roving about quite a bit during the past several months. This is really a big, fast team out here now, Doc, and it isn't giving the opposition a chance to call for a "time out." Consequently, I am kept fairly active since I go along for the ride.

Every bit of news from the Hill now seems to contain the notice of the death of another one of our boys. The school has lost a number of fine men, and the same sad loss is being repeated many times over the country. I only hope the gentlemen meeting in San Francisco at the present time are aware of this sacrifice and that this time they see to it that their sacrifice was not in vain.

Thanks again, Doc, for the "Rebounds" and best of luck.

Sincerely,

Bill Belt
