

I fear, at times, that some of our leaders have been much like the tongue-tied family whose young son came dashing indoors exclaiming, "Oh, Mama! There's a flog in the fling! There's a flog in the fling!" The mother, with a disgusting reprimand, corrected him saying, "A flog in the fling! Can't I ever teach you kids to talk flopper?"

At this moment the father sternly admonished, "Talk flopper, now you've flixed it!"

I will now introduce our esteemed Chancellor Lindley who will, I hope, tell us how to "flix" the wrongs, in our present physical education program.
