

hand, encouragement is given them so that they may grow stronger. As play and games are open to all of our American Youth so is the right of free enterprise open to all of our American Citizens. Play and games plus work develop moral, esprit de corps.

Every worthy organization is built upon such an ideal, and the perpetuity of that organization is largely determined by the sincerity with which the ideal is fostered.

Through unnumbered years the oncoming crop of youthful athletes will attempt to right some wrong, to fight for their schools, and to excel some old star's record---in all, a triple prayer of conquest to dream true. For this is the never-changing and immortal spirit of youth.

Last Tuesday evening at 8:30 P.M. the President of our own United States spoke to the Youth of America as well as to its oldsters. His words bristled with imminent danger to our Country.

NOW is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their Country by becoming superbly physically fit.
