

July 16, 1940.

Mr. Harold Smith,
Smith-Griewes Publishing Co.,
17th and Washington,
Kansas City, Mo.

Dear Harold:

The first of each month I make out a separate slip for the amount I owe each of my creditors. These I put in a hat and draw out one slip. That bill I pay immediately.

So one more letter from you like the last and I take you out of my monthly raffle.

Doubtless the people who print the program next year will be as anxious to do as good a job as you are to collect this bill.

I was under the impression when I called at your office that you were convinced I had done my very best to collect this money so that we might pay you. I am still as anxious as I ever have been to see that you get your money at the earliest possible date consistent with my bread and butter job here on Mount Oread and my schedule, which is a very atrocious one and which permits me to get away only on limited occasions.

I still have your name on my raffle list.

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

FCA:AH