Dear Dr. Allen:

We have had our equipment man and custodian search high and low for the basketball trunks you thought might have been left in our dressing room. We fail to find any trace of them, and it looks as though Engleman will have to be playing without his pants.

If they were left in the dressing room at our place it is entirely possible that some of the youngsters who hang around the building trying to get autographs of your team might have picked them up as a souvenir.

Cordially yours,

W. H. Browne
Basketball Coach
