Dear Dr. Allen,

I was down to see you, a few weeks ago, about my left knee.

I stayed for the game that afternoon, and enjoyed it very much. I thank you very much for the ticket.

I looked for you after the game, and stood outside the K.C. dressing room till all the crowd had left and most of the players had come out. I am very sorry I missed you.

My knee is better than it was then. But it still gives me trouble. I can't seem to straighten it out, and at times I can not bend it, but so far back, untill it snaps, then it is all right.

My step dad, Mr. Henry B. Stuart, would like for you to take another look at it. I can come down any Saturday that it is convenient for you to see me. If you would please drop me a card and let me know just when, I am sure I can make it, and would appreciate it very much.

Sincerely yours,

H. B. Burchett
