

present conflict where most of the fighting has taken place either on, over or in the water.

(4) To furnish an opportunity for the physically handicapped to rehabilitate themselves so that they can learn some sport or game commensurate with their physical ability.

(5) To provide an opportunity for the correction of physical defects insofar as this is possible with the proper program of exercise.

(6) The development of certain character and social traits, such as leadership, sportsmanship, and fair play which may come about through participation in a well-organized and directed physical education and athletic program.

This new program will include the following features:

First: All male students would be required to take compulsory physical education in the freshman and sophomore years, three hours per week, one hour per day, with the exception that returning veterans who have served in the armed forces and are of freshman or sophomore classification would be excused from one of the two years of required physical education.

Second: The program for freshmen and sophomores would be on the compulsory-elective basis; that is, four semesters of gym work would be required of all able-bodied men, but students would have a choice of the activities offered in five areas: Team Games, Gymnastics, Aquatics, Combatives, and Recreational Sports. It is proposed that a student must select one semester's work from at least three of these areas during the four semesters. Those veterans who are required to take one year in the program may take only one semester's work in any one area. Under these five groups would be offered activities as follows:

Team Games

Touch Football

Speedball

Volley ball

Track and Field

Soccer

Basketball

Softball

Varsity Athletics