

Fig. 1

THE VERTICAL FLOAT

The swimmer appears to be suspended in the water by his chin. The mouth, eyes and nose are above the surface of the water. This permits breathing. By moving his arms this swimmer can change his body balance and make his legs rise and his body to a horizontal float. See next picture.