

Fig. 2

HORIZONTAL FLOAT

Note that this swimmer has extended his arms in a straight line. This affects his center of buoyance so that his legs are brought to a horizontal position. His mouth, chin, eyes and nose are above the surface of the water.