Announcements concerning these activities have been placed on the various bulletin boards. But so far the response to the voluntary programs is not as satisfactory as it should be. I think that we must insist on a required program if the men are to take our program seriously.

A teacher training program in recreational leadership is being planned, and there is being offered a course in Co-recreational Leadership Training, open to both men and women. The purpose of this is to train students in leading groups in games for social recreation, quiet games for black-out or air-raid shelter periods, dancing, storytelling, and community singing.

The women, in addition to cooperating in the above course, are offering courses in body conditioning.

I hope this information will be helpful to you.

Sincerely,
