

GETTING READY FOR ACTION

Students at University of Southern California will spend one hour daily in physical training for the duration, as war toughening process.