

February 12, 1943.

Mr. R. E. Peters,
342 So. Chelsea,
Kansas City, Mo.

Dear Reaves:

Yes, I saw you across the court Saturday night but realized that you must have been called away rather early.

We are glad to have Hogue and are happy to take a chance on Captain Schiesl.

I agree with you, I would not pay Roper $20.00 to go to Stillwater. Lance and Larson will have to do for the game.

I hope you can get Lance to work with Oberhelman on February 23. I think Peterson worked a very weak game at Olathe and a weak one here. He lets the other fellow carry all the load and doesn't add much to it. He is rather mouse-like and has a tendency to have rabbit ears. In other words, he doesn't hold up for the visitors, as I have witnessed him at Olathe and here in Lawrence.

I wish we could get Lance on March 6, and if we can't get Lance on February 23rd what about Eddie Hogue. I do not mind having fouls called on us here at home. I realize if they don't call them on us here they won't call them on the visitors at the other place, and in that point I think Peterson is weak. Hinkhouse is not too strong a man with another weak fellow. Oberhelman is much stronger. Why couldn't we get Oberhelman with Nebraska here?

I think you get what I mean. Fellows like Hogue and Oberhelman are much better than fellows like Peterson or Dick Pullian.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

FCA:AH