Dear Jane:

Your lovely letter of the 27th ultimo has arrived and we are delighted to hear from you. We are passing on your letter to the people in our department who are here, and when Miss Hoover and Miss Stapleton and Mr. DeGroot return it will be passed on to them so that they may have your address.

Thanks a lot for the invitation. You know, it is true that when people are so close to each other they visit less than when they are far away - as if you were in New York, for example. But we do thank you so much for the invitation, and some time when the Allen family is sojourning in the capitol city we certainly would like to stop by and see that artistic skill that you exercise over the things that you have in charge.

With sincerest best wishes to you and yours for health, wealth and longevity, I am

Very sincerely yours,
