December 30, 1937,

Mr. John W. Bunn,
Director of Basketball,
Stanford University,
California.

Dear John:

Thank you for sending me a page of the stationery of the National Association of Basketball Coaches, which gives the officers and chairmen of the various committees.

In regard to the possible meeting of Kansas and Stanford, I would not have brought it up only for the fact that Ralph Miller came into my office and stated that on your way back from California when you were bringing Ralph home you stated that you wanted to meet Kansas in basketball, and he came in and asked me to write you.

I quite agree that both of us are pretty well besieged for games for the future, and neither of us would be especially free until 1941. Suppose we treat this '41 series in an expectant manner.

It will be entirely agreeable to us, if we can get together on a date, for us to receive the same guarantee as you received back here, namely $364. Let's make it even money - we would not want the 93¢.

With every good wish for a happy and prosperous New Year, I am

Sincerely yours,

Varsity Basketball Coach,
Director of Physical Education.
