

Corbin Hall and Watkins Hall. Reservations in Miller Hall will be made for the Regular Summer Semester only.

Corbin Hall will offer single and double rooms and two meals daily (breakfast and evening dinner). The rate for a share in a double room and two meals daily for sixteen weeks is $114.00, payable in two installments; for a single room and meals for the same period $124.00. Rates for these accommodations for eight weeks will be one-half the quoted figures, payable at the time of enrollment.

Watkins Hall will be operated as a residence hall. No meals will be served, but the privilege of using the kitchen may be obtained by paying $5.00 for eight weeks or $10.00 for sixteen weeks. Rooms in the Hall rent for $20.00 for eight weeks, $40.00 for sixteen weeks.

Miller Hall will be operated as a cooperative house for students who are partially self-supporting. Approximate cost for food and lodging will be $15 a month.

Two cooperative houses, organized by women students and approved by the Adviser of Women, will continue to operate at low cost through the summer. Additional cooperative houses can be provided if there is sufficient demand for cooperative living.

Housing facilities are also available in private homes, church residence halls, and organized students' rooming houses. There are adequate and economical accommodations for Summer Session students.

For Men

Information regarding the various types of living accommodations and costs for men students may be secured from the office of the Men Students' Adviser, which is the authorized rooming agency for men in the University. This office, in Room 1, Frank Strong Hall, is open throughout the summer. Students are urged to make use of this service.

Battenfeld and Templin Halls will be operated on a scholarship basis, as they have been in the past three regular fall and spring semesters. The privilege of living in these halls at low cost is granted to young men of excellent character and good scholastic standing.

The University will operate Carruth Hall, Hopkins Hall, Jol-
