Mr. Tom Harris,

Abilene, Kansas.

Dear Tom:

I have just gotten hold of your transcript and see that you failed a four-hour course in Qualitative Analysis, which is a tough course, I know.

I am wondering if you don't want to get eligible to play basketball the first semester next year. I don't know how you can do it because it takes 28 hours in the Engineering School, and you have but 20.

I really thought that after we came through and fixed you up in your loss that you would have sporting qualities to come through with your end of the deal. Let me hear from you.

Sincerely yours,
