Mr. Reaves Peters, Commissioner,
Big Six Conference,
342 So. Chelsea,
Kansas City, Mo.

Dear Reaves:

I think something should be done regarding the teams that have small two-inch letters on the front of their jerseys. When we played the Kansas Aggies in Kansas City I noticed that their jerseys are a straight violation of our rules. I do not know what other teams have the same violation, but it is impossible for a boy to pick out the opposing player.

Suppose they come down the floor facing the Aggie opponent. The letters are too small to distinguish. If one fellow can violate the rules why cannot the others? And then the Aggies' letters are not set out in block so that you can easily distinguish them.

I would like for you to write me frankly and tell me in a friendly way what you think the powers of a commissioner are. Doubtless this, and other things, have been brought up before, so I am just asking you to tell me how we can get some action on things.

Also, will you kindly send me the Big Six basketball schedule? I have never had a copy of it and I would like to follow the progress of the games.

Thanking you for these favors, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

P.S. Oh, yes, the officials are not using the signals at all, in indicating fouls. Why would we give the scorekeeper these things unless the officials use them?

N.B. Yes, and my digestion is good. I am feeling fine!
