

experienced to count on their applying the heat when it is needed. And too, in the clutches they can't hit their free throws. And Oklahoma last night made 17 straight! Some of the boys have some fine qualities but they are so lacking in others that it is difficult to get a balanced team.

But anyhow, we are thankful for good friends and good health. And here's hoping that the New Year finds you amply supplied with both.

With every good wish, I am
