

November 16, 1943.

Dr. and Mrs. Don Carlos Peete,
4140 Cambridge,
Kansas City, Kansas.

Dear Don and Alice:

The gloves were not upstairs - they were right down in the living room on the table by the tall lamp. I am also sending your sun glasses back. If our lamps had been good Don and I could have found them but when the search was instituted for the effects upstairs that is the thing that threw us off. As soon as you had left I discovered them on the quartet table.

I am sending them so the sun won't bother you on your way down Saturday. It certainly was a great pleasure to have the Peete family and we are looking for the re-Peetes Saturday. Am in a rush, so please excuse the hasty note.

Cordially yours,
