Dear Sir:

I am very happy to recommend for your consideration Jacob A. Smith, who was a student in my class. Smith was a sophomore in Education, with a major in Physical Education, at the University of Kansas, when he was inducted into the Army last January or February.

Smith was a good student and was especially well liked by the other students of the University. He is one of the higher type of colored boys. He seems to know how to cooperate and win the friendship and respect of the men on the campus. He is clean, has good habits, his integrity is unquestioned, and his loyalty is positive. He had initiative and in my opinion has the determination to accomplish any given task that might be assigned to him.

I have a high regard for this young man and feel that he will make good.

Very sincerely yours,
