

feats, oratory, music art, and poetry will go hand in hand. In the early Grecian days the participants were the noblest types that the race could produce. Is it not true that at the present time the finest blood in the world is found in our youth who compete in our amateur collegiate contests, They really live all of their early plastic, idealistic life, training and conditioning themselves for a great moment such as we saw on Kansas Memorial Stadium field this afternoon.