Dear Professor Rice:

I appreciate your interest in taking the time to send me your summary of the basketball scores in the Big Six in your computation which I just received. It certainly is very interesting, and I agree with you that this makes it appear a much closer race than the old method of games won and games lost.

People are so conservative about starting something new that they are hesitant to make any changes. I am going to show this to a Kansan reporter and ask him if he will not call upon you to have you elaborate on your method.

Assuring you I appreciate your interest, and thanking you again, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
