Mr. Floyd Rowe,
Board of Education,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Floyd:

I think Quidley is a very personable, dynamic and entertaining man who speaks with much emphasis and clarity. He has a dominant personality and I would recommend him without reservation. He really puts on a show as a lecturer as well as an official. I think he would fill the bill very definitely. I hope you can get him.

Oswald Tower would be great, but Quigley is a man that leads the show. I am sure you would be well pleased with him.

Regarding my own availability, I am not at all certain. I am up to my ears on this administrative problem, having the promotion of the Coaches Association, the Rules Body and the basketball tournament. It is quite a sizeable job, besides all the other details, one of which is coaching the University of Kansas basketball team - and I haven't done much of that to date.

I sincerely trust that Floyd Rowe is still his own self with a lot of pepper and a clear head for efficient administration. I would cherish a good long tete-a-tete, say a couple of hours, to talk over administrative problems and content and method.

With all good wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
