

November 8, 1939.

Mr. Floyd A. Rowe,
Board of Education,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Floyd:

This is to confirm the following wire, which I just sent you:

"You got me, pal. I'll be there. Send specifications."

I am very much like that Christian minister of Cleveland who had a call to a larger parish in New York. The parishioners of the Cleveland church called at the home, hoping to keep him in Cleveland. The young son, six years of age, met them at the door.

"Where's your father?" they asked.

"He's upstairs praying to see whether to accept the call to New York or not."

"Well, where's your mother?"

The son replied, "She is down in the basement packing up."

So you got me, pal!

I will leave on Monday, the 27th, at 12:56 noon, and arrive in Cleveland Tuesday morning at 7:32.

Cordially yours,
